

DC Policeman Captures 2 Escapees

TOMORROW NIGHT

'Miss DC' Selection, Crowning

Tomorrow night will spell a year of success and happiness for one Daly City girl — and almost certain disappointment for five others.

The event is the twelfth annual Miss Daly City Beauty Pageant, scheduled to get under way at 8 p.m. in the main ballroom of the Elks Club in South San Francisco.

Emcee for the gala affair is popular KSFO disc jockey Jack Carney.

Carney was named "Radio Personality of the Year" in 1960 and is well known throughout the Bay Area for his charitable activities.

Finalists in the pageant are Robene Brown, Sandy Conlan, Steph Sutton, Cynthia Lockamy, Cindy Valdez and Sandra Tate.

Former Miss Daly City queens will model fashions from various stores in the area with commentary by Mona Baker.

The contest is sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

P. Evert Terminello, chairman of the event, said the affair was "one of the best" in recent years and he expected a record attendance.

A Billboard Ban Sought in S.S.F.

South San Francisco Planner Daniel Pass has advocated, by implication, an ordinance prohibiting the construction of billboard signs in every district of the city.

In a memorandum to City Manager Eugene Aiello, Pass stated, "Since the outdoor advertising industry will not limit the growth of its constituent companies... adequate billboard control requires such legislation."

"It is my feeling that South San Francisco cannot successfully preclude expansion of billboards on the local scene through the use permit process," the planner said.

"Under planning theory and practice, a use permitted by use permit must be approved in the absence of substantial evidence indicating its establishment would be detrimental," Pass said.

South San Francisco now has 50 billboards, Pass reported, "exactly the same number we had in 1963."

He said "some billboards undoubtedly will be removed as El Camino Real approaches its commercial destiny. However, this removal will probably be paced by the outdoor advertising industry's offensive to replace lost billboards with new ones in other parts of the city."

Billboards in the city are centered along El Camino Real, which has 17 permanent outdoor advertising display structures, and Bayshore Freeway, which has 15, according to a "billboard map" prepared by the planner.

5 Teeners Arrested: Marijuana

Police arrested five teenagers Monday on a Daly City street corner and charged them with possession of marijuana and stolen property.

Two of the youths, Gordon Chandler, 19, of Hillside Boulevard, and Ronald Alex Tafuya, 18, of 939 Wyandott Avenue, were booked into the new city jail while three 17-year-olds were sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

Officers Tom Crawford and Roger Austin stopped a car driven by one of the unidentified youths after it was spotted on Mission Street driving without headlights shortly after 9:30 p.m.

When the driver began acting suspiciously, the officers searched the car and allegedly found:

- Two smoked marijuana cigarettes, a plastic bag containing marijuana, a syringe and related paraphernalia for administering drugs, a set of brass knuckles, a typewriter belonging to the Jefferson Elementary School District, a pair of binoculars and numerous marijuana "seeds" under the front seat.

Tafuya was arrested in early March for allegedly shooting John Spencer during a one-sided game of "Russian Roulette" in a Daly City home on Wyandott Avenue.

Five Houses Vandalized

Five houses in the Dardanelles tract in the Vallejo section of Pacifica were vandalized over the weekend, according to a report filed with Pacifica police by the Rolar Construction Company of Woodside.

Dee Williams, a Rolar foreman, said doors were kicked in on all five houses.

Tar was smeared over carpeting, carport lights were smashed and other light fixtures taken and hardware removed from vanities and all doors.

Waitress Thwarts Holdup

A young waitress with ice water in her veins thwarted a hold-up Monday when she threw a pot of boiling coffee water on the robber's gun hand.

Isabel Luz Cavitt, 21, of 126 San Felipe Avenue, San Bruno, told Deputy Sheriff Robert Outman that she was just closing the Interstate Hosts snack bar in the south terminal at 4:50 a.m. when a man came up behind her and stuck a gun in her back.

She turned around and the man, whom she described as a hippie type holding a gun in his right hand, told her:

"Give me the keys."

Miss Cavitt backed along the counter until she could reach the coffee maker. She grabbed a pot of boiling water and threw it at the long-haired gunman. The water, she said, hit him on the hand and in the area of his stomach. He screamed and grabbed his hand.

The would-be robber quickly warned Miss Cavitt not to call the police, then ran from the room.

Witnesses said he was joined at the door by another hippie who was waiting for him.

Both wore typical hippie clothing and were dirty, Miss Cavitt and the other witnesses said.

The man with the gun was white, about 25 to 30, had long dirty blond hair, was about 5 feet 5 and weighed 130 pounds. His accomplice had long curly black hair.

The ensuing search for the two men turned up an unexpected bonus. Deputies found two boys, ages 16 and 17, who fit the description of the robbers. They were not the ones, however, and turned out to be runaways from Yonkers, N.Y. In their possession was a key to a locker at the airport, which was found to contain a cache of marijuana. The boys' parents were called and they were to be sent back to New York.

Cyclist Hits Cable, Dies Of Injuries

A South San Francisco man who was injured in a motorcycle accident Sunday afternoon died 25 hours later without regaining consciousness.

The coroner's office said the victim, Fred E. Baron, 26, of 205 Chapman Avenue, succumbed to his injuries at 5:40 p.m. Monday.

Witnesses told Highway Patrol Officer J. R. Steffens that Baron was driving southbound on Guadalupe Road off of Guadalupe Canon Parkway at 4:20 p.m. when the accident occurred. They estimated his speed at 30 to 40 miles an hour.

Motorcycle and rider were flipped into the air.

Witnesses said it appeared that Baron did not see the cable, which was placed across the road because the road is not open to the public.

He is survived by his wife, Carol.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Jeff High Seeking Vocational Funds

The Jefferson High School District in Daly City, will apply for $14,950 in federal Vocational Education Act funds to expand its "work experience" program.

Trustees authorized filing for the funds Monday.

At the request of the work experience supervisor, Paul Perez, trustees approved a plan to add a teacher-coordinator.

The district, if the application is approved, could expect to receive funds for the additional person (up to $11,480), retirement and fixed charges for the co-ordinator (about $600), extra office supplies, postage, mileage payments, printing and other miscellaneous items ($1,700) a desk, chair and a file cabinet.

Turstees had a choice, however.

They could have continued the program, which was started this year, without VEA funding and not authorized the additional teacher-coordinator.

This would have eliminated retirement and fixed costs, reduced the office supplies cost to $850, eliminated capital outlay and the anticipated $14,950 income through VEA.

The added cost to the district, Perez pointed out, is $835 under the program, for which application has been authorized.

Pacifican Is B-A Finalist

Carolyn Pierce of Terra Nova High School in Pacifica will be among 28 Bank of America Achievement Award program zone winners to compete in the final selection May 11 in San Francisco.

Miss Pierce is a finalist in the vocational arts classification.

A panel of seven civic leaders, representative of the West Bay area, will group interview the candidates and select winners in each academic field.

Money Used As A Lever

Daly City may be forced to rejoin the Association of Bay Area Governments — an organization it stormed out of less than two months ago.

The lever being used against the maverick city is, pure and simple, money.

If Daly City refuses to come back into the ABAG fold, Housing and Urban Development (HUD) head Don Pollard has threatened to cut off all federal funds.

And without the funds, Daly City's plans for progress will slowly grind to a halt.

"It's a helluva way to get shot down," councilman Frank Pacelli remarked during a study (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

'Suspicious' Trio Spotted By Woman

Salary Boosts Urged 3d Man Is Still At Large

Administrators of the Jefferson High School District will begin this week the calculation of monetary values on requests for salary hikes and increased benefits proposed for non-teaching employees.

District Supt. Edward Morgan said Monday he did not know, in terms of dollars and cents, how much the proposals would add to the district's tentative $6-million budget.

Assistant Supt. for finances, Fred Goodell, is expected to start compilations today, Morgan said.

The Daly City-Pacific Chapter of the California School Employees' Association and Local 377 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees each proposed to school trustees increased pay and greater benefits.

Included was a proposal from the AFSCME for a 37½ hour week for classified employees.

The CSEA representative, John Hayes, summarized his group's proposals, which included (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

A Daly City police officer singlehandedly captured two Ben Lomond Prison Camp escapees in the Westlake section of the city early Tuesday.

A third escapee evaded recapture and is believed still at large in the North County.

Officer Don Cubic was on patrol shortly after 1 a.m. when he was stopped by a woman who said three suspicious men were prowling around in her apartment house garage at 144 Crestwood Avenue.

Cubic investigated and found Robert Eisler, 27, getting out of a car, later identified as being owned by John B. Morris, of 1535 Redwood Drive, Los Altos, and allegedly used in the trio's escape from the Santa Cruz prison.

He asked Eisler for identification and when the escapee failed to produce any he was arrested and placed in the rear of the patrol car.

As Cubic re-entered the area, the other two men ran off in separate directions.

The officer chased and captured (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Portable Classrooms Seen for Jeff High

Six 20x30 portable classrooms might be requested by Jefferson High School District administrators to be installed at the Jefferson High School before next year, Supt. Edward Morgan has told district trustees.

Morgan Monday asked the board in Daly City to authorize his assistant, Fred Goodell, to start specification preparation.

The superintendent said there is a "critical" need at Jefferson High for small classrooms, particularly since that school, which serves mostly Old Daly City, has small remedial classes.

Portables that could be flexible in its walling would be leased until the new Serramonte High School — two years away — could be completed, Morgan explained.

He said there "could be" the possibility that bids would never be awarded, but he thought there is a distinct advantage to preparing necessary specifications now.

This, the administrator pointed out, could give the district the ability to act immediately when, and if, surveys concluded that additional classrooms, in the form of portables, were required.

"It appears now," Morgan declared, "a definite recommendation (on portables) will be coming."

Principal Ernest Ribera of Jefferson is expected to make a full report on his needs later this month, Morgan said.

Caesar-Callan Tract Grading Delay

South San Francisco councilmen postponed action on a grading permit application from Caesar-Callan Homes, Inc., to excavate and grade the city's 10-acre park site in Westborough Subdivision Monday.

Councilmen declined to grant the permit Monday after hearing recommendations from Public Works Director Louis Goss and City Attorney John Noonan.

Goss said there should be an "overall co-ordination of plans" between Callan and the city's landscape architect before grading operations proceed on the site.

center site in the subdivision, was also withheld.

Noonan and Goss recommended that this permit be issued only after the city's specifications on the park site are met, "in accordance with previously stated council policy in this matter."

The council gave the developers an "ultimatum" several weeks ago on the park site, and said no permits for further work on the shopping center and other projects in the subdivision would be issued until "the firm complies with the terms of our original agreement."

Bank in D.C. Buys Bonds

The First National Bank of Daly City purchased $385,000 in sewer bonds last week in Pacifica's bond sale.

The Daly City bank's bid of 3.8 per cent interest on the 13-year bonds is the lowest submitted in the sale.

Money from the bond sale will be applied to a number of sewer improvement projects in the city, including completed repairs to the outfall sewer in the Sharp Park District.

Another $90,000 will represent the city's matching funds in the proposed Linda Mar trunk line project, and approximately $150,000 will go to the Linda Mar water pollution plant expansion.

Citizens Meet With Council

South San Francisco councilmen met with members of the Rancho Buri Buri Homeowners' Association in a special study session last night to discuss plans for the Westborough Expressway extension.

City Mgr. Eugene Aiello said copies of the county engineer's plans for landscaping the road were submitted to the city Monday.

Routine SSF Denial Of Four Claims

South San Francisco Councilmen voted routine denials of four claims stemming from water damage in the city Monday night, referring the matters to the municipal insurance carriers.

Three of the claims were filed by business concerns in the 400 block of Canal Street, an area which has been flooded on several occasions during recent rains.

The fourth was entered by a Francisco Drive homeowner.

The claimants are Bay Area Drum Co., 429 South Canal Street; Mel and Sons Auto Upholstery, 431 South Canal; South City Body Shop, 433 South Ca-

S.S.F. Cites Intent To Close Street

South San Francisco councilmen adopted a "resolution of intent" to close a street adjacent to the Chinese Cemetery on Junipero Serra Boulevard Monday at the request of Police Chief John Fabbri and a resident of the area, Joe Cerrito of 100 Longford Drive.

Old Farm Road, an undedicated street just inside the city limits in Winston Manor No. Two, has been the scene of several serious accidents during the past few years and residents of the neighborhood have petitioned the council to close the road on prior occasions.

"We had assumed this unimproved road was outside the city limits," City Manager Eugene Aiello told the council, "but surveys indicate this is not the case."

The road opens onto Junipero Serra Boulevard and has been used as an access route to the Chinese Cemetery. Closing the road will necessitate re-routing funeral processions in the neighborhood, Aiello said.

A public hearing on the proposed closing will be held at a further meeting.

In other business, the council authorized Public Works Director Louis Goss to advertise for bids on the Linden Avenue-Hillside Boulevard traffic signal project.

Goss has estimated signalization of the intersection will cost $11,500.

The council withheld action on two resolutions relating to installation of underground telephone cables in Stonegate Ridge Subdivision at the request of City Attorney John Noonan, who stated he needed time to consider the possible effects the cables might have on the city's proposed community antenna television service.

Proclamation designating May 6 "Fire Service Day" and May 14-20 "Police Week" in the city were also approved at the meeting.

tured Wayne Cavalli, 21, and locked him in the rear of the car with Eisler while he returned once again to search for the third man, identified as Stanley Puchta, 18.

Puchta was described as 5 ft. 10-in., blond hair, blue eyes, and wearing a tan windbreaker, tan pants and gray sweatshirt.

The trio walked away from the Ben Lomond Prison Camp, some 60 miles from Daly City, Sunday night shortly before bed check.

A prison official said their escape was noticed "almost immediately" and an all-points bulletin went out for their capture.

There are no fences around the prison, the official said.

None of the escapees were armed at the time of their recapture.

Eisler was serving a sentence for cashing a fraudulent money order and Cavalli was sent to the prison for burglary.

Hearing On Brisbane

Public hearing on a proposal by Brisbane to withdraw part of the city territory from the Diamond Public Utilities District has been scheduled by the County Local Agency Formation Commission for May 17.

Salary Boosts Urged

ed a five percent cost-of-living and general-trend salary rise to all classified workers, plus what Hayes called an additional five percent "inequity" hike.

In addition, the CSEA wants a group dental plan and, next year, payment or commensurate time-off for two holidays that will fall on Saturdays and for which compensation is not provided.

Hayes explained, however, that a bill to provide this already has passed the State Assembly and has moved to the Senate.

Removal of overtime restrictions currently in force for clerical personnel also is sought. The CSEA asks overtime pay for the clerical workers, Hayes said, to give them the same time-and-one-half pay that other employees receive.

Frank Gillis, AFSCME business representative, asked on Local 377's behalf, a five percent increase for all classified employees, in addition to prorated vacation time between the first and fifth years of employment.

He called for a 37½-hour work week for all employees, which he admitted would require a number of "rules," including overtime. Gillis did not elaborate.

The AFSCME also hopes to obtain night shift differential pay and a "call-back" guarantee of four hours.

Gillis referred the proposals to Morgan for his "disposal."

Morgan, who said the district is facing a cut-back on some services if a much salary expansion is approved, said a $6-million budget (now in its tentative stages, with trustees to begin analysis later this month) without capital outlay, which is anticipated, "is ridiculous."

He said the board will hear teacher representatives' salary-benefit proposals next Monday.

County Seeks $10,362 Back

The county went to court Tuesday to recover $10,362 from a well-to-do Daly City welfare recipient.

In a petition filed in Superior Court, Deputy District Attorney Jerome Coleman asked that the defendant, Dabney Lyle Pearl, 36, of 163 Avalon Drive, be enjoined from transferring or otherwise disposing of some $10,600 worth of blue chip stocks.

The petition states that Mrs. Pearl, mother of four, received welfare aid from October, 1963, through March, 1967, although she was not eligible.

A Money Lever Might Get DC Back in ABAG

session Monday night. "But, before I make any commitment, one way or the other, I want to study it some more."

Daly City walked out of the nine-county, 80-city "supergovernment" only last March.

Within weeks after the move, Warren Schmidt, ABAG's executive secretary, passed on some thinly veiled threats to come between Daly City and various federal funds.

Santa Clara County supervisors wrote a letter of encouragement to Daly City, deploring ABAG's threats and condemning any further such action on the part of the regional government.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett said a recent conversation with Pollard revealed "that Daly City either become a part of some form of regional government or no money."

"The question is: Can Daly City afford to take a chance (of losing the money)," Lycett asked his fellow councilmen. "It looks like we'll have to jump back in the frying pan again," Councilman Edward Dennis said.

The city has already applied for some $70,000 in federal funds for a General Plan. It was feared this amount would be curtailed unless Daly City paid its $1,000 annual membership dues to ABAG and actively rejoined that organization.

Lycett expressed the opinion that the city should go back into ABAG "so we can get in there and yell our heads off."

"I don't like the odds of what we can lose against what we have and could have," Lycett said.

Another question plaguing the council was: "What happens if Senator Eugene McAteer's regional government bill passes?" "Will it affect ABAG. And if so, how?"

On May 9, some 19 delegates from throughout the state will meet in Sacramento as part of the Home Rule Committee to work out problems surrounding the regional government concept, Pacelli said.

Say It With Music Show Set for D.C. Presentation

"Say It With Music" a 60-minute stage performance followed by an after-show buffet will be jointly sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Lions Club and the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild on June 17, at the Daly City War Memorial Center, 6655 Mission Street.

Joe Mottola, president of the Daly City-Colma Lions Club, said proceeds from the show will be divided between local Lions Youth Welfare Fund and Girl Scout Troop 8, of Daly City and Colma.

Ira Neville, secretary-treasurer of the Daly City Lions, said the Youth Welfare Fund had become badly depleted because the club had overextended itself in making donations to various charitable and community projects in the Daly City-Colma area during the first half of 1967.

"This is the fund" Neville explained, "that helps support Guide Dogs for the Blind, the Lions Eye Bank, White Cane Project, Operation Santa Claus and other worthy causes in this community."

Mrs. R. L. Eversole, 672 Florence Street, Colma, leader of Girl Scout Troop 8, hopes its portion of the proceeds will "put them over the top" in a three-year campaign to raise enough money which will enable Troop 8 to visit Washington, D.C., this August.

Troop 8 is made up largely of girls attending Colma Intermediate and Southwood School in South San Francisco; Westmoor and Jefferson High, Daly City; Holy Angels in San Francisco, and St. John's in Daly City.

Since 1964, Troop 8 has been working towards a fund that will take 28 members and 7 chaperones to the Nation's Capitol for a 3-week trip.

None of the funds from the ticket sale—at $1.50 per person goes to the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild although students and parents of the dance studio are expected to sell some 50 per cent of the admission tickets.

Mrs. Trudy Scanlon, director of the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild is also president of the Lioness Club of Daly City-Colma.

Tickets may be obtained at $1.50 per person from any member of the Lions Club; from Mrs. R. L. Eversole, phone 756-1740; or from the St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild, 405 Lakeshire Drive, WY 2-1934, Daly City.

Creative Dance And Ballet Lesson Openings

Openings in the Pacifica creative dance and ballet classes being offered by the Park, Beach and Recreation Department still exist.

Classes in creative dance are being held at Oddstad Park on Saturdays.

Classes for seven year olds and up are scheduled at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m.

A special class for tiny tots is planned at 10:30 a.m. Tots must be five or six years to be eligible for the program.

Registration is being taken at the class by the instructor Penny West.

Ballet classes at Pacific Manor on Mondays and Valle-mar on Wednesdays also have openings.

Mrs. Kay Schwartz will be taking registrations for these classes starting at 4 and 5 p.m. at both locations.

Guitar classes are starting this week. Thursday night classes, held at Oddstad Park, 7:30 for beginners and 8:30 for intermediates, will start tomorrow night. Anyone interested may register at City Hall or at the first class meeting, if they are not filled. Classes are also being held on Tuesdays at Fairmont Center. Registrations for these classes may also be taken at City Hall or at class.

HOBBY SHOW

A Hobby Show, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, will be held Saturday, May 13 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the War Memorial Community Center, 6655 Mission Street, Daly City. A variety of interesting hobbies will be on display.

Susan Wold To Be Wed

Susan A. Wold and Ralph E. Lewis have chosen to exchange their wedding vows at a small family wedding July 22. The parents of the future bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil L. Lewis of El Dorado, Tex., will travel here for the wedding.

Susan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Wold of Belmont, attended South San Francisco High School and the College of San Mateo. She is a licensed cosmetologist.

Ralph attended schools in Pampa, Tex., and is now studying toward a degree in technical illustrating. He served three years in the Navy and was stationed in Vietnam.

Rosemary Wold will be her sister's maid of honor and Leo DeLuca, Ralph's cousin, will be his best man.

Church in Pacifica Is Setting for Ceremony

St. Peter's Church in Pacifica was the setting for the recent wedding of Kay Kuhlman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Kuhlman, and Ken Gracey, the son of Marie B. Gracey and the late Mr. Gracey.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white satin floor-length, A-line gown with a lace train. White orchids, roses and stephanotis made up her bouquet.

Joanne Bertram preceded Kay down the aisle as matron of honor in a floor-length, Empire gown of pink crepe. She carried pink roses. In similar attire was the bridesmaid, Bernadette Kuhlman, sister of the bride. The junior bridesmaid was Monica Kuhlman and Eileen Williford, cousin of the bridegroom, was the flowergirl. Mark Kuhlman, brother of the bride, carried the rings.

Bill Gracey served as best man for his brother, and Paul Kuhlman, brother of the bride, and Bob Gracey, brother of the bride, carried the guests.

After a reception at Fleet Admiral Nimitz Club at Treasure Island, the couple left for a wedding trip to Carmel. They will make their first home in San Carlos.

Emma Derhake attended the wedding of her granddaughter from Quincy, Ill.

COMMENT

Trying to Stem Malnutrition

In characteristic American tradition, a group of private citizens and industries has leaped in to help the government with possibly the most formidable task of the century — trying to stem world malnutrition.

The Meals for Millions Foundation is a non-profit organization active in international self-help protein programs. Protein deficiency is the most widespread debilitation disease of mankind.

Operating now only in South America, the foundation selects a town or an area that is suffering from malnutrition and for a few thousand dollars carries out a feasibility study to determine the most logical and economical ways to increase the production and consumption of protein.

If a study is accepted, the foundation transports young men from the towns and villages to its headquarters in Santa Monica, to study and work with machines and equipment designed to extract protein from locally grown crops which might be feasibly introduced.

Gerald Miller, executive director of the Meals for Millions Foundation, explained the purpose of the program when he said, "We must give these hungry people the know-how to produce their own food and protein. If we send them food they eat it once and it's gone."

He also quoted a Chinese proverb:

"Give a man a fish and you feed him for a day. Teach a man to fish and you feed him for the rest of his days."

Fantastic Strides

It is difficult not to feel sorry for people who are pushing 100. They may not live to see the gigantic 1000-passenger seating aircraft that are in prospect for the mid-1970s.

Thinking about the fantastic and often frenetic strides made in aviation since the Wright brothers flew to fame early in this century is enough to send even a middle-aged around the bend. The young may understand, but it's tough on the others.

Fifteen years ago, a 100-passenger plane seemed like a daydream. Five years ago, who would have thought 400-passenger planes would be flying the Atlantic and making many airports obsolete by 1970?

The 1000-passenger airplanes will be three stories high, will have collapsible stairways that would become escape slides for passengers down through the lofty plane, and will feature portable "smoke hoods" that will enable people to walk through smoke in a burning plane.

The Marquee

Pathos, Humor

Barbara Bladen

The task of catching the feeling Tennessee Williams put into his autobiographical play is always an arduous one for amateur acting companies, and for the most part, in professional productions as well. It's a virtuoso role that takes extreme sensitivity to make it sympathetic.

The Millbrae Players have scored another success with their interpretation which opened this weekend and will continue Friday and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. Jo Anne Guadio catches all the nuances of character and shadings, without overplaying. She's drawn on her years of experience in difficult roles to create a dramatic impression that lingers long after the curtain falls. Both pathos and humor are employed in her portrayal of the faded southern belle who prattles about happy memories while undergoing desperate frustration in finding a "gentleman caller" for her shy, crippled daughter.

The actress dominates every moment she is on stage, but also has the benefit of a well-chosen supporting cast which helps maintain the structure of the play. Her accent slips noticeably between broad British and broad southern but the effect of her personality overrides this discrepancy.

The part of the painfully introspective daughter is brought to life by Susie Gruhn. Another difficult part among the many the author created, the wistful looking actress uses every gesture and speech to accent a clear picture of a girl who is a disappointment to her mother.

Numbed by feelings of inferiority, Laura's only pleasure is in her collection of tiny glass animals. Her most compelling scenes are with the gentleman caller who finally comes, only to disappoint the plotting females with the announcement that he is not available to court Laura as he's already engaged.

John Rechtfertig as the son represents the outside world. He's a warehouse worker in the thirties who yearns to be a writer and follow an adventurous life. He ultimately deserts the family, as did his father before him.

Working both as narrator and member of the suffocating household, where a nagging mother and dominated daughter crush all hope of peace and quiet in the home, Rechtfertig gives a resigned portrait that comes best into focus when he is angrily telling his mother off on recounting his dream of a life at sea to his dinner guest.

Fusto Paulazzo is a welcome newcomer to the firehouse theater. He's young and good looking and has temperance in his acting, as well as a sense of timing as the brash young man who is invited to dine with the tense family group. His self-confidence as a go-getter who has plans to improve himself comes off well. His kicking a wad of gum under the bed and drinking from a wine bottle when no one is looking seem incongruous with his good manners and polished impression but he gives understanding and warmth to the role.

The play is considered Williams' best, the cast is strong as is H. Miles Heberer's direction. But the finishing touches are successfully provided by Margaret Stone's painted images behind a lighted screen to denote places referred to in day dreams.

The 'Ideal Suburban Home'

'Petulia' Filming At Serramonte

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Even author John Haase (Me and the Arch Kook Petulia) couldn't do it — stand on the same set with director Richard Lester during filming of "Petulia."

But we did! Stand on the same set with director Lester, that is.

And everyone smiled and offered us hot coffee to ward off the biting cold of late April in Serramonte.

Earlier in the filming, author Haase had been unceremoniously escorted from the set in Sausalito by order of the director, thus sparking an explosion of rumors by writers around the country.

However, the action is still a rather deep mystery and even publicity departments shy away when the subject is brought up.

The Daly City location had been chosen to shoot a sequence of the "poignant story of two people" (as the publicity department of Warner Bros. calls it) because it was considered by all to be the "ideal suburban home" — the type the moviegoer could project himself into, a crewman explained.

All sorts of trucks began converging on the ideal location while the sun was still debating whether to come up or let the rains take over, as they had for the past three months.

Big trucks, small vans, station wagons, lighting trucks, sound vans, and, lastly, a delightful truck with a delightful man wearing a white cap and surrounded by a mountain of steaks — the cook shack.

The armada crammed the limited area around the $24,950 Sunstream home and began vomiting their contents onto sidewalks, lawns and roadways.

Neighbors likewise poured from their homes shortly after dawn and began hunkering at strategic spots on the opposite sides of the road, hoping to catch a glimpse of they knew not what.

A car-pulled up to the model home shortly before 10 a.m. and out stepped Oscar winner Julie Christie.

Without so much as a glance at the hushed spectators, the star ascended the outside stairway and disappeared into the second floor rooms of the building where the scene was to be shot.

"It's supposed to be Glendale," an on-duty police officer whispered. "You can tell by the unmarked police car — we don't use that kind here in Daly City."

Dozens of heads swiveled towards the parked police car and the rumor flashed like a prairie fire down the curb.

"It's supposed to be Glendale — you can tell by the unmarked policeman in the car," a knowledgeable husband gushed to his wife.

"I hear this is supposed to be Glendale," we winked knowingly to publicity man Robert Joseph. "You see, they just don't use that type of police car in Daly City."

Joseph didn't know about Daly City's police cars, but he assured everyone the scene was supposed to be Serramonte, in Daly City, outside San Francisco.

And Miss Christie had just brought a crippled youth (Vincent Pedilla) home to his Serramonte address, etc., etc., from San Francisco.

"All of 'Petulia' will be filmed on location in San Francisco, across the Bay in Sausalito and also in Tijuana, Mexico. All interiors will be filmed on location in the actual places shown . . . so they can be identified," Joseph explained.

It took three months of scouting to come up with the "ideal home" the script called for.

San Francisco was scoured. Sausalito was searched. And several other nearby locales were combed. All to no avail!

Finally, the producer found what he was looking for in Serramonte, a crewman explained.

"The producer wanted to have a realistic home the average moviegoer could visualize himself in — thus the choice of a Sunstream home," a happy Serramonte press agent said.

And so, with jets roaring overhead, spectators shouting to other spectators, dogs barking and crewmen yelling orders back and forth, the business of making a movie progressed in Daly City.

Booby traps had been laid for the uninitiated everywhere.

Hundreds of feet of high-voltage cables, switchboxes, props and even reclining stand-ins caused more than one person to stumble as they made their way across the set.

The shooting pace was hectic, to say the least.

No sooner had the stars — Miss Christie, George C. Scott and Richard Chamberlain — rehearsed their lines than the order "Quiet on the Set" was given (shouted) by the assistant director and the cameras rolled to record the event for posterity.

By noon, when the hour-long lunch break was called, the director, crew and stars likewise looked shot.

The 75 members of the cast and crew stumbled across the set and into a nearby garage where tables had been set up and sizzling steaks (all they could eat) awaited.

Another scene in the comedy-love story was over with more to come in the afternoon and evening.

Asked how long the filming of "Petulia" would go on, a tired-looking Joseph replied:

"Forever and ever — at least it seems that way."

LUNCH BREAK — publicity director Robert Joseph (left) doesn't have time to take a lunch break with the cast of "Petulia" during a sequence shot in Daly City last week. He spends his time discussing the afternoon schedule with one of the 75 crewmen working on the location.

Historical View Of First Settlers

Samuel Chandler

The first settlers of Northern San Mateo County were a hearty group—some from Ireland, some from Italy and some from Old New England.

Oxen were their beasts of burden. A few families had horses to pull their carriages and buggies, but most of them used oxen.

The first settlers raised potatoes. Some farmers on the hills planted oats and wheat, but the fog and the general dampness of the area made grain raising impractical.

A few years after the first crops were planted, a blight that lasted several years brought an end to potato culture. Some of the original pioneers became so discouraged they sold their lands and moved away.

The new owners, most of them Italian immigrants, experimented with new crops especially cabbages, corn, cauliflower and flowers. Of these cabbages and violets seemed more adaptable to the soil and the climate. In a short time the farmers were marketing their crops all over the United States. Even in Chicago people spoke of Colma, California as the Cabbage Center of the universe. To comedians the area was krautville and the residents the original cabbage heads.

The only road through Northern San Mateo County was known as El Camino to some people and Old Mission Road to others. It entered the area at Daly's Hill where 400 cattle grazed, passed on to Knowles Gulch and then passed the hog ranches that covered an area from what is now Gambeta Street to the cemeteries.

AMONG the children who grew up amid the ranches and dairies was Teresa Belli, now Mrs. Joseph Altieri, daughter of a pioneer storekeeper, M. Belli.

Recently she wrote, "these farms or ranches were practically self supporting small communities, raising nearly all food necessities. Most of the farms had small butcher shops and dairies and all farmers raised chickens, geese, turkeys and ducks."

"In many incidents they had their own forges, leather tools, carpentering tools for constructing and repairing buildings, furnishings and implements. In some incidents, saddlers, wagonmakers, and cabinet makers made regular yearly visits at the ranches, where with the materials and tools there, they build equipment, such as wagons, sleds, harnesses, furniture and repaired the years damage."

ON A DAY in 1859, the ranchers received a rude shock when a crew of surveyors moved on to their lands and tramped down their crops. When questioned the surveyors told the settlers that they were employees of the Laguna Merced Rancho and their company owned all the land—the settlers were poachers.

The ranches determined to fight, organized the North San Mateo Settlers Union and impowered R. S. Thornton to fight the company through every court in the land.

Before he was through Mr. Thornton journeyed by ship around Cape Horn to Washington D.C. In 1866, seven years after the first litigation, he returned home with a Supreme Court ruling in favor of the settlers.

Meanwhile his fellow ranchers were determined to keep their homes. They purchased seventy-five Kentucky rifles and a brass cannon. Then they build a fort and lined its walls with 100 pound sacks of potatoes.

THEIR first and only skirmish was with the Sheriff of San Francisco and his deputies. On the day he came to evict I. G. Knowles—for whom Knowles Avenue is named. The ranchers met him with their long rifles and their cannon. Bloodshed was averted, however, by a wise attorney who convinced the ranchers that their action would effect their case which was, even then, being argued before the Supreme Court.

Slowly they lowered their rifles and helped the Knowles family move in with some neighbors, who lived on lands not claimed by the Laguna Merced Company. In a few days several other families were evicted. These resulted in scuffles that charged the air.

The patience of the early settlers was remarkable. Although all the State Courts ruled against them, they kept their tempers under control until the day Mr. Thornton returned with the favorable Supreme Court ruling.

According to Thornton's memoirs, that may be found in a book bound for the Daly City Public Library, the Supreme Court's ruling encouraged other people to take up land in Northern San Mateo County and other areas of California where ancient Spanish land claims were being pressed.

No Woman Seen On DC Council?

Frank LaPierre

THE SHADOW KNOWS there will never be a woman council member in Daly City. At least the authorities don't think so. If they had expected a female to be elected they would have built a ladies' restroom in the council chambers similar to the men's restroom installed there.

AND SPEAKING of the new civic center and especially Petrocci's Palace. Word is apparently getting around that the Daly City Lockup is one of the finest jailhouses in the nation — arrests have picked up dramatically and now hit the six-per-day mark.

QUESTION OF THE DAY — What happens if the Crystal Springs reservoir dam breaks. Don't laugh! The water is a record level — the highest it's been in years — and that old dam isn't any younger.

QUIET ON THE SET — Daly City will now become internationally famous, thanks to filming of "Petulia" in Serramonte starring Julie Christie, George C. Scott, Richard Chamberlain and John Wasserman. You say who's "John Wasserman?" Only the biggest film cutter since Dr. Kildare, that's who. And you can bet your bottom autograph (Chronicle critic) Wasserman will give THAT flick a good review — probably the only one he'll ever give.

The most excited lad on the Petulia set last Saturday morn was handsome Danny Walker of 15 Cliffside Drive. A stand-in for Vincent Pedilla, the talented Danny (guitar and sings) should himself be in the movies.

GARBAGE GALORE — A scheduled debate between Dr. Paul Gerocke of the Brisbane Citizens for Civic Progress (BCCP) and scavenger boss Leonard Stefanelli is on, starting at 8 p.m. in the California Academy of Sciences, Golden Gate Park this evening. The two are sworn enemies, and observers expect the debate to reach the boiling point since Gerocke is considered responsible for the scavengers losing their dumping grounds of Sierra Point.

THAT WAR IN VIETNAM is, in a way, hitting Daly City where it hurts — in the police communications network at the new city hall. Two things are blamed by officials for the delay in completion of the network: late bidding and shortage of communications equipment apparently due to the war.

Another bug, bugging the city hall is the too hot — too cold — climate. If the main entrance door to the police department is closed, the room is stifling. But if it's left open, the cold wind whistles through like a hurricane. Responders are searching for the answer. They'd better hurry. At least two officers are already coughing.

AT A SNAIL'S PACE—South San Francisco engineer Louis Goss is looking over plans for a park site at Westborough, scene of much controversy over a shopping center and a Catholic school complex. But they had better decide quickly what to do because rumor has it the Catholic church will soon submit a rather lengthy petition to the City Council — and soon. The church "unofficially" claims the only person against the complex is city planner Dan Pass who is using the "park site" as an excuse to stall the matter. The city, however claims the holdup can be traced to developer Caesar-Callan Homes' failure to satisfactorily develop the park site.

SOMETHING NEW FOR D.C. — A new, big water reservoir to be built on San Bruno Mountain within ten months. An indication which way the city will start expanding???

TOO MUCHA PEPPERONI?? — Pappa Joes Pizza Parlor at 415 Linden Ave. SSF, was the scene of an $1000 fire the other p.m. Investigators say a short in an electric cord caused the blaze. But a customer, slightly under the weather, insisted it was the sausage pizza he ate which almost set his breath afire.

CELEBRITIES' CORNER — On May 9, Daly City councilman Frank Pacelli will square off with county supervisor James Fitzgerald and ABAG director Warren Schmidt. On channel 14 (College of SM) at 8 p.m. Everyone already knows that D.C. pulled up stakes and left ABAG, but they don't know why. Perhaps that question will be answered by the trio.

Better Business

Deal Cautiously With Salesman

Lorene Beasley

Every day the Better Business Bureau offices throughout the United States receive calls concerning magazine subscription solicitation received either over the telephone or from door-to-door salesmen. The Bureau does not object to door-to-door selling as long as it is done properly and ethically, with no misrepresentations.

However, some of the young sales people handle the truth as carelessly as their magazine orders.

Be cautious in dealing with the person who comes to your door with the serious pitch of being a veteran, "working my way through school," "I am an orphan," or who trades on physical handicaps.

AS a result of protests, two of a traveling "crew" of magazine salesmen, reportedly working the Mid-Peninsula area, were recently arrested by the Burlingame police.

The majority of magazine publishers and subscription agencies are reputable business people. To protect the buying public as well as the industry from unethical selling crews, they have set up a program with Better Business Bureaus known as Central Registry.

This association of major magazine publishers and distributors requires the posting of a $1,000 performance bond by its members to insure compliance with subscription contracts obtained by their traveling crews.

Ask to see the salesman's credentials before signing a contract to buy magazines. Traveling crews registered with the Central Agency carry CR cards. Does the salesman have a license to do business in your city? Traveling CR crews are required to register with the local Better Business Bureau.

MAGAZINE solicitors sell from a printed list of publications which their agencies are authorized to handle. Make sure the ones you order are on this list. No magazines are given free.

The subscriber is actually paying the long, full-term price of the magazines. The only advantage in such an offer is that the potential customer, instead of putting out a large amount of cash, is able to pay off on an installment plan at the rate of $2.50 to $3.50 a month over a period of time.

SOME unethical solicitors claim that the buyer pays only for the postage which actually is the regular subscription price for the magazines.

If you have any doubts about the magazine salesman who calls at your door, phone your local Better Business Bureau.

Pacifica Manager Studies New Police Quarters Angle

By WILL THOMAS
A new slant on providing the Pacifica Police Department with enlarged quarters is being considered by city leaders.

City Council last Wednesday night received not only a report on the costs involved in selecting one of two sites to which police facilities could be shifted, but also learned of a possibility for leaving police where they are and moving administrative offices instead.

The council directed City Mgr. C. W. Masonheimer to study cost aspects of moving administrative offices to a Francisco Boulevard building, allowing police to occupy the bulk of the existing city hall.

Pacifica started looking for property some four years ago, hoping to relocate the police department in temporary quarters until a new civic center complex could be constructed.

The city's leaders say the center is from five to seven years away.

Masonheimer has indicated a preference — at least until last week when he came up with the heretofore unconsidered administrative shift — for the Novi property on Palmetto Avenue, on which the owner would provide a remodeled two-story structure, paving and demolition of an older building for about $75,000.

The other site studied is owned by the Laguna Salada School District, and is adjacent to the present city building.

Masonheimer said he investigated the possibility that administrative personnel could be relocated in the Williams' building after learning that the city would not be able to budget a sum large enough this year to proceed with the property purchase.

It was pointed out Wednesday that the Novi site could be obtained on a lease-option plan, over a five-year period.

Masonheimer said he previously had been under the impression that cash was required to obtain either the school or Novi properties.

The Williams' building for administrative offices could be acquired for a $165 monthly rental over five years, he said, or about $10,000.

Remodeling would cost another $10,000 to $15,000, plus moving costs and purchase of some new furnishings.

In the past, the council has been split over which of the two previously considered sites to buy, yet Wednesday there appeared to be an awareness that finances might prohibit further consideration of the school property.

Councilman Nick Gust appeared to favor the administrative shift, if the school site couldn't be purchased.

Councilman James Fox continued to stump for the Novi site, which Masonheimer previously endorsed.

Fox opposed study of the latest possibility.

He thought the "city hall" relationship would be lost if the city's administrative offices were elsewhere, and also indicated he didn't think the police department would gain enough room.

S.S.F. Thief Tricks Man From Home

A burglar with a sound but devious understanding of human nature preyed upon the parental concern of a South San Francisco resident last night in order to burglarize his home.

Police said someone telephoned Frank Soltis of 1700 El Camino Real about 9 p.m. and told him his 12-year-old son was being held at the police station.

The caller represented himself as a police lieutenant, and advised Soltis to come to the station immediately. He said the youth was charged with breaking into a house.

Police at headquarters were baffled when the concerned father came to the station and asked to see his son, and assumed the telephone call had been made by a practical joker.

When Soltis returned home he found his residence had been broken into, and a watch, radio and $80 in cash were missing. His son, who had been playing with neighborhood children, came in a short time later.

Students, Parents Still Prefer Graduation Rites

A poll conducted last week reveals most students, teachers and parents of the Jefferson Elementary School District favor continuing the traditional practice of holding eighth grade graduation ceremonies.

Supt. Frank Greenwood reported Tuesday that "a considerable number" of Benjamin Franklin School teachers, students and parents indicated they favor eliminating the graduation exercise, but a large majority from the district as a whole favors continuing it.

A group of teachers and P-TA representatives from Benjamin Franklin School requested that the board eliminate the exercise last month "because they have become meaningless ceremonies, and the children are no longer interested in participating."

The group also said students are "unruly" during the exercises, and they cause numerous disciplinary problems each year.

Trustee Joseph Lewkowitz and other board members requested that a poll be conducted last month "in order to hear from the children before making decision."

The board took no action on the matter Tuesday, and the graduation exercises will continue "at least through this year."

Those who favor eliminating the ceremonies maintained the practice "is a carryover from frontier days, when completion of the eighth grade marked the end of formal education for many persons."

Winston Manor Sets Celebration

The Winston Manor Home Owners Association's annual Independence Day Celebration will be held on Tuesday, July 4, in South San Francisco.

The community, consisting of 327 homes, feels this is one way it can show children a few of the good old-fashioned patriotic Fourth of July traditions handed down to us by forefathers.

The festivities commence at 10 a.m., with a parade starting from Arlington and El Camino and continuing through the tract past the reviewing stand at the playground. In the parade all the children decorate their bicycles, tricycles, buggies, wagons and floats in order to compete for the prizes given for the best and most original entry. Many dignitaries from South San Francisco will participate in the parade and help judge and award prizes to the winners. After the parade and reviewing stand ceremonies, games, contests and relay races are held according to age groups. There will be prizes for the winners. Throughout the day refreshments will be sold at every nominal fee.

Pacifica's Building Up

Building activity in Pacifica increased again this week, with permits issued for construction of nine new houses in the Park Pacifica Subdivision.

Permits for the houses issued to Challenge Development Company were $19,554, 1011 Oddstad Boulevard; $18,656, 973 Oddstad Boulevard; $19,049, 1006 Oddstad Boulevard; $19,049, 1000 Arcadia; $19,049, 996 Arcadia; $18,646, 997 Arcadia; $19,049, 1001 Arcadia; $15,209, 1081 Grand Teton; $21,717, 1139 Park Pacifica.

Training For SSF Firemen

South San Francisco firemen recently held training exercises at the site of the former Lakeside Motel on El Camino Real.

Hose and ladder techniques, roof entry, and rescue methods were reviewed in the practice exercises, and most of the abandoned buildings at the site had been burned, Chief John Marchi said.

Le Pacini

Because modesty forbids Frank LaPierre to more than mention scores of The Post bowling team in his own column (that's the one the editor always borders in black), we feel it incumbent on us to tell of the outstanding job he has done with a team possessing less potential than the 1961 Mets, which is pretty bad when one considers that the Mets weren't organized until 1962.

Until LaPierre, whose sparkling column has been placed in nomination for the Walter Winchell Award for Straight News-Reporting and won him accolades from the editorial staff of The Oracle, brought his organizational talents to The Post team, he was a virtual unknown in bowling circles.

He had, to be sure, made his mark in social circles (which, indeed, is an arm of the bowling mystique) when he caused the Ajax Knight to retire his lance after two unsuccessful passes at him.

There had also been his athletic triumphs, such as continually whipping former Post employee George Miller at golf despite the fact that new-golfer Miller had employed, at LaPierre's suggestion, Frank's secret technique of the cross-handed grip.

But forgetting former successes, LaPierre grimly set about forging a new dominating power in the Westlake Merchants' Bowling League.

His most effective technique has been in making sure all the league's officers are on his team, which comes in handy when handicaps are figured out.

President of the league is Post staffer Terry Sweeney, who may best be remembered for his locally best-selling pamphlet, "How to Survive in Auto Accidents." Vice president is Post secretary, Diana Cralle. Her husband, Jim, is secretary-treasurer. He actually has nothing to do with the Post, but they had to get somebody who could count, and Diana also needed a ride home.

LaPierre's wife, Terry, holds no office, but serves the important function of keeping an eye on Frank.

The John Havlicek of the squad is Post news writer Don Grierson, a non-bowler until just a few weeks ago whose gummy performances despite a 20 average often inspire Post bowlers to great heights late in close games.

LaPierre has moulded this team into a contender, and feels that the team to beat is the Westlake Pizza Parlor, especially if they keep eating their own garlic pizzas before games.

No doubt about it, this year's Westlake Merchant Bowling League promises the most exciting race for athletic supremacy since the Garden Village marble tournament.

And now to lighter things. Final NBA statistics revealed some interesting—and several surprising—facts.

For instance, the 76ers had the best field goal percentage (48.3), the worst free throw percentage (68), and had the most bonus attempts. The Warriors, who finished second in scoring only to Philadelphia, took most shots from the field (for a 43.3 percentage). They were second in free throwing (75.8), behind Cincinnati (77.7).

Perhaps surprisingly, the Warriors had most team rebounds, 5,974 to Boston's 5,703 and Philadelphia's 5,701.

Rick Barry was second on the Warriors in both rebounds and assists.

Paul Neumann beat him in assists, his 4.4 average being tenth best in the league.

As in all sports, injuries play a significant part in eventual team effectiveness. Granted, the 76ers were great, but their especially fantastic record had much to do with luck in injuries. Five 76ers, Chamberlain, Walker, Cunningham, Jones and Jackson, played all 81 games. Greer missed only one game. No other team in the league had that kind of durability record. Not one Warrior played every game. Barry was in 78, but often hurting.

Chamberlain played more minutes than any player in the league, averaging 45.5 minutes a game. Closest to him was Cincy's Jerry Lucas, who averaged close to 44.

To give an idea of how important—or perhaps how strong or relatively inactive—centers are, five centers led their teams in total minutes played. There were four forwards who led, one guard. That was Chicago's Guy Rodgers.

We don't mean to belittle the game of soccer or foreign players, but unless we badly misjudge the American sports fan and his almost desperate need to be able to identify with sports heroes, we don't see how soccer—once the novelty wears off—can survive long enough for American players to develop into "major leaguers."

There will, of course, always be a coterie of aficionados who will turn out in the same numbers as, say, the old baseball San Francisco Seals. But if you want to use European and South American soccer attendance as a criterion, soccer may never be truly major league in this country. Developing our own American stars may take a full generation, and we know of baseball, football and basketball leagues which have gone down the drain sooner than that.

Sure, you can say that we're the big melting pot, all foreigners ourselves, and point to the wonders of television exposure. But TV has never been the panacea for anything, and when the news media interviewers can't pronounce the names of players and coaches of their "own" teams, nor interview them because they don't understand English, the melting pot theory is good only for textbooks and patriotic speeches . . . certainly not for American hero worshippers or management treasurers.

Soccer's been played in this country for years. So have other sports, such as rugby and tennis, which have never gotten out of the minor league class. If it weren't for the Olympics, even track would be in the latter category.

At the risk of being an analyst for the entire country, we'll guess that such sports have never really gone over in the United States for the same reason that baseball has never caught on in other countries (outside of Japan, which has managed to duplicate everything American, outside of Lefty O'Doul). These sports are essentially "foreign." Baseball, basketball and American-style football are, basically, American sports, born, nurtured and developed here.

We may be wrong and hope we are. But despite the affluence of middle-class America, we feel that the "American" sports have gotten too big a jump on soccer for it to compete for the entertainment dollar.

Crestmoor Upsets Cap Nine

They said it couldn't be done, but the Crestmoor High School baseball team went ahead and did it anyway.

Coach Steve Gehre's charges handed Capuchino's title aspirations its first setback Friday as the Falcons upset the Mustangs, 4-3 in a thriller on the loser's diamond.

The loss was Cap's first in six Mid Peninsula League outings, giving them a 5-1 mark. San Mateo is in second place with a 3-1 record.

Crestmoor parlayed the excellent pitching of Dennis Dickey along with the relief help of Glenn Grossman and the big bat of Mike Kohles into victory.

"I think that the key was that we were able to get almost a complete game out of Dickey for the first time this season," Gehre stated. "He looks like he is completely over the injury which hampered him," he added.

Gehre said that the most important play of the game was the final out when Cap had the tying and winning runs on base. Kohles, Crestmoor's alert catcher, caught Cap's Mike Chiappari napping at first and rifled the ball to first base. With Chiappari on his way to second, Cap's John Bjorner was forced to try and take third.

A relay throw to first baseman Jim Powell caught Bjorner at third for the third out and the ball game was over.

Crestmoor had gotten off to a good start in the top of the third when Jeff Dirking got on on an error and Steve Waskey sacrificed him to second. Bob Jackson then took first on an error and Dirking scored on the miscue.

Kohles then delivered the big blow of the game, powering a home run over the left field fence scoring Jackson ahead of him to give the Falcons a 3-0 lead.

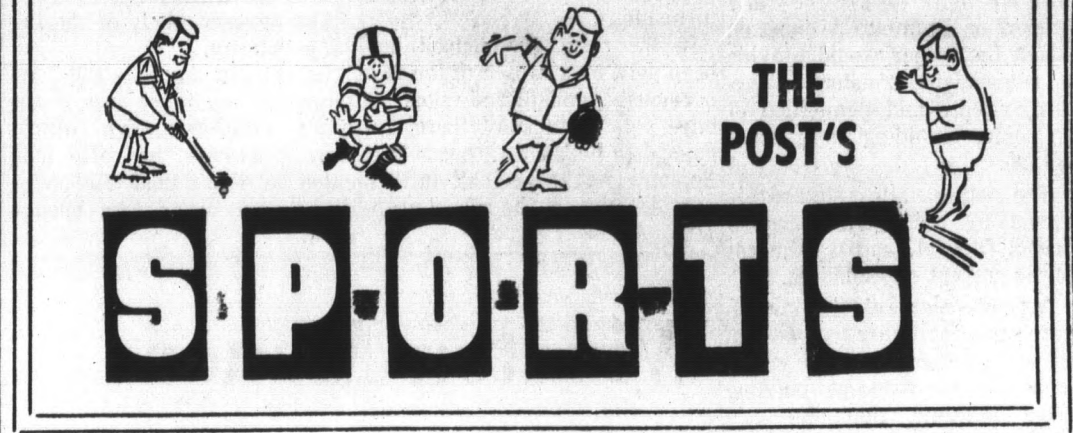

Crestmoor upped its lead to 4-0 in the top of the fourth when, with two outs, Dirking singled, stole second, and came all of the way around on an error. Cap got on the board in the bottom of the fifth when Bjorner sacrificed Roger Carmine home after the latter had sacrificed. In the bottom of the last inning Cap scored twice and had two men on when Bjorner was put out at third.

Dickey was credited with the win, striking out five batters. Grossman came on in the seventh with one out and two on to preserve the victory.

Cap's Carmine, who relieved in the fourth, shut the Falcons out for the final three innings and struck out eight batters.

Warrior
Cinder
Victory

The track team of South San Francisco High School, facing the double victories of Russ Cottrell and Larry Gagliani with the spicing of a new school record, made their North Peninsula League dual meet a lethal dish for Oceana Friday.

The Warrior spikes took the Coastside crew, 89-32, thereby improving their league-leading dual meet record to 3-0.

Joe Gradney set a new school record of 12 feet even in the pole vault, breaking the old Warrior standard set by Bill Gellepis in 1955. Cottrell won both sprints with respective clockings of 10.1 and 22.8 while Gagliani duplicated his prowess in the hurdles. He won the highs in 15.4 and the lows in 20.3.

Our Gang Holds 1st Place In D.C. Co-ed Volleyball

Our Gang remained in first place in the Daly City Recreation Department's Adult Co-ed Volleyball League last week, taking two easy wins over the Stinkers, 15-1 and 15-4.

The second-place Lame Ducks also took two wins last week, beating the Swanx, 15-1 and 16-14.

The Rascals, tied for second place with the Lame Ducks, defeated a stubborn Raider team in two out of three contests. Bill Greene and Jim Wolf sparked the Rascals to an opening win, 15-1. The Raiders took the middle game, 15-13, and the Rascals game back to win the final contest, 15-3.

The fourth-place Warriors took two out of three from the Guppies, and retained a two-game lead over the Raiders and Stinkers.

Organizational Meeting For Slow Pitch League

The Daly City Recreation Department is signing up players for the 1967 Adult Slow Pitch Softball League this week.

The league is open to adults over 18, and each team entering will be required to pay $15 in entrance fees to cover costs of awards and a $5 forfeit fee, which will be refunded at the end of the season if no games have been forfeited.

A managers' meeting will be held May 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation offices on Hillside Boulevard to discuss policies and procedures.

Teams planning to enter the league should have a representative at the May 11 meeting, recreation director Mickey Corso said.

Rec Activities At Terra Nova

Pacific Recreation Department activities scheduled at the Terra Nova High School gymnasium, May 8-13, will be cancelled because of the Miss Pacifica Pageant, a spokesman announced today.

Recreation activities will resume on the regular schedule, May 14.

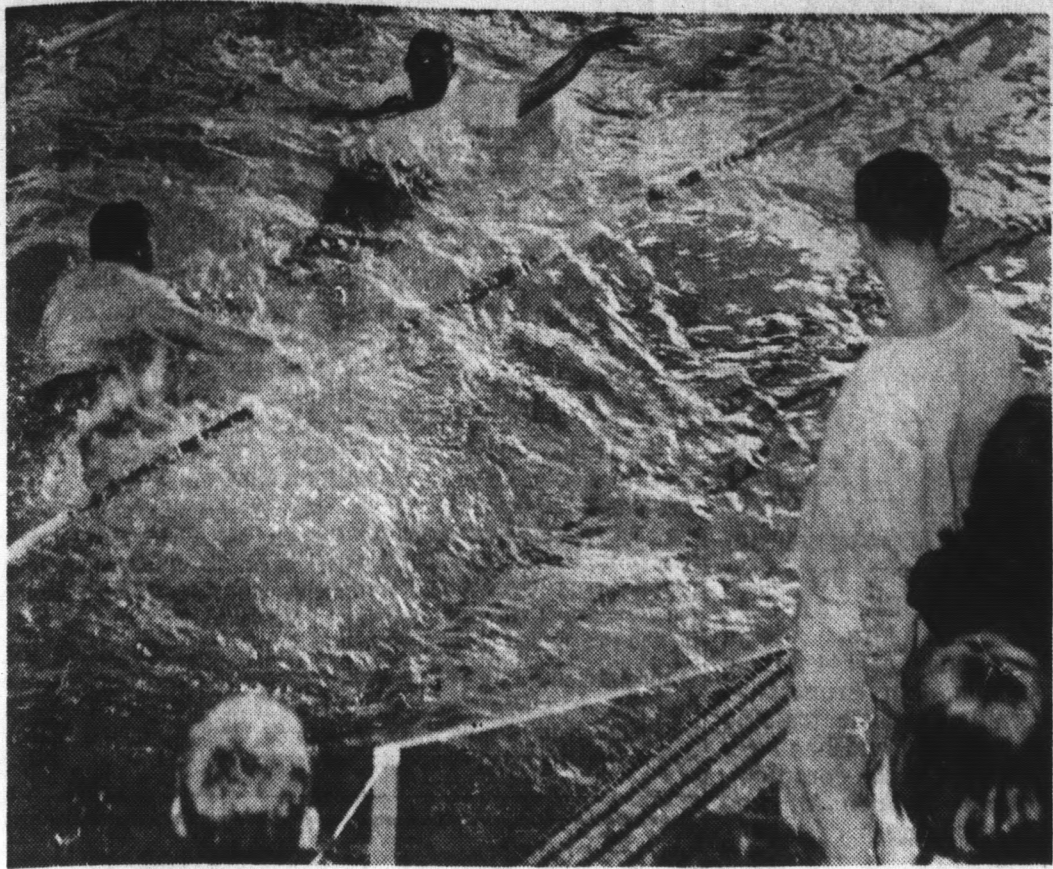

Williams Wins Pool Playoffs

Tom Williams captured first-place honors Saturday in the Honeywell E.D.P. pocket billiard league play-offs at Town and Country Billiards in Daly City.

Glenn Nickles took the consolation award.

Sunday Swim Class on Coast

The Park, Beach and Recreation Department conducts recreational swimming every Sunday from 1:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. at Terra Nova pool. The cost is 25 cents for children, 35 cents for high school students and 40 cents for adults.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO High School swimming coaches Cliff Sansot and Al Shepherd took their traditional dunking in good spirits last week after the Warriors captured the North Peninsula League swimming championship for the fifth straight year. Sweeping all three divisions, South San Francisco totaled more than twice the points of their nearest rival, runner-up Jefferson High School.

Warriors Take NPL Swim Championship

Sweep Three Classes

South San Francisco High School reigns as the North Peninsula League varsity swim champion for the fifth straight year this week.

The Warriors, sparked by Jim Stevens, Ken Belli and the free relay team, posted 104 points to win easily. Jefferson was second with 45 points.

South San Francisco also won the class B division and the class C division.

Stevens won two events, Belli set a new league record in the 100-yard breast stroke and the free relay team of Sam Smith, Ron Hall, Ed Ekers and Alex Smith set a new league record.

New league records were set in the class B division by Carl Schroeder of El Camino, John Olsen of El Camino, Darrell Page of South San Francisco, Dennis Locke of South San Francisco, the medley relay team of South San Francisco (Dennis Locke, Scotty Nicholls, Dave Hall and Al Fawyer) and the free relay team of El Camino (Jon Olson, Al Hurley, Carl Schroeder, and Larry Malari-no.)

Westlake Bowl

By JAMES GREALISH

The bankers topped the Westlake Merchants League last week as Dolores Langford of the Bank of America led the ladies with 174-464 and Bob Aring of Crocker-Citizens topped the men with a 224-game and 578 series.

Trio leagues seem to have caught the interest of summer bowlers at Westlake. With both scratch and handicap leagues on the schedules, many bowlers are enjoying a "change of pace" in league bowling for the summer.

The Frazier family took top honors in the GET League Wednesday night as Marion was the leading lady with a 189-487 and Dave led the men with a 179-game and 519 series.

Our Junior bowlers are working hard on fundraising projects to help finance their trip to Sacramento for the Junior State Tournament July 22-23. Westlake Bowlers have been very generous in their support of the juniors by helping the candy sale, cake sale, car wash, etc.

Rae Magnus had three good games, with a high of 192, to lead the Morning Glory League last Wednesday with a high series of 569. Other high shooters were June Edgerton with 181-523 and Alice Masini with 193-517. Rae also converted the 5-7 and Ann Koenig picked up the 5-10 and Jackie De Salvatore the 4-5-7.

Western Envelope Company League bowlers of the week were Louisa Harvey with 162-458 and Ron Abbet with a 178-game and 447 series.

Bette Le Vesque showed that good sponsors can also be good bowlers as she led the French Brothers Invitational League with a 191 game and 517 series. Bette was followed by Bev O'Leary with 178-516 and Irene Balsham with 192-504.

Leading the 805-Scratch League on opening night of the summer season was Howard Smith as he rolled a 208-game and 590 series.

In the four game Ladies Invitational Trio League, Sue Markey was leading lady with 200 and 655.

On the final night of league play, Elaine Winters and Ned Lavine led the 98's Mixed Fives League, Elaine with 173-game and 470 series and Ned with 205-585.

Mike Alexander was bowler of the week in the AFL-CIO League, shooting a big 225-game and 588 series.

Alice Nelson and Jack Urie took top honors in the Friendship Trio League last week. Alice bowled a 152-game and 452 series to lead the ladies while Jack's 200-529 topped the men.

In the Tuesday morning St. Emydius Belles League, Helen Vigil again took top honors with a 175-game and 472 series. Mickey Miralda led the split converters picking up the 5-7 and 5-10 while Jan Gibson converted the 3-10, Ruth Korbus the 4-5, Connie Haling the 5-7 and Eileen Drexler the 7-9.

Laguna Acts To Acquire School Site

Trustees of the Laguna Salada Union School District adopted a resolution directing the district attorney's office to initiate eminent domain proceedings toward acquisition of the new Fairmont School site last week.

The district recently received a $264,600 grant for purchase of the ten-acre parcel, which will be the site of a third elementary school in the Fairmont area.

The proposed school site is owned by Henry Doelger Builders, Inc., and Suburban Realty Corp., developers of the Fairmont Subdivision.

School officials said there are no plans for immediate construction of the new Fairmont School, "when population in the area warrants the facility."

The Laguna Salada District now operates 13 schools, with two more under construction.

Students From 17 Schools Saluted at Awards Fete

Students from 17 public and parochial high schools in San Mateo County, participants in the 7th Annual Essay Contest conducted by the Invest-In-America Council, met Thursday at the Annual Awards Luncheon held in their honor by the San Mateo County Development Association at the Hyatt House in Burlingame.

Sigmund Arndt, President, Security Insurance Associates in San Mateo, Chairman of this annual event, headed a group of business and industrial leaders that played host to the students that had submitted papers on the subject "What Do Your Savings Mean To Your Future?"

Introduced as guest speaker, Charles F. Lowry, Partner, Schwabacher & Co., San Francisco, keynoted the day's events by stating "the opportunities for private investment of private capital is being constantly simulated through the development of new products, new theories, new techniques" and told the students present that it will be "your responsibility, through astute leadership and vision to accept the leadership and management of the businesses of the future."

Christopher Douglas, senior at Hillsdale High School, San Mateo, walked off with top honors in winning the Countywide Award, followed by Steven Krantz, Sequoia High School, Redwood City, who took second place.

Judges for this year's contest were Jack S. Selden, Wells Fargo Bank, San Mateo; Allen L. Roland, Dean Witter & Co., San Mateo; and Robert E. Luzzi, Citizens Federal Savings & Loan Association, San Mateo. The Program Coordinator in San Mateo County was Jackson Eaves, Wells Fargo Bank, Redwood City.

One student from each high school won an award of a stock certificate purchased on the open market or a $25.00-bank account.

Lee E. Ham, President of the San Mateo County Development Association, introduced representatives of several firms whose stock certificates were presented to the winners. These included James Gould, Lockheed Missiles & Space Co.; Richard Burdick, Morrison-Knudsen & Co., Inc.; Dino Revetria, Lucky Stores, Inc.; Fred E. Rosewater, FCM Corp.; Peter Scott, Di Giorgio Co. Corp.; and George T. Sealy, Utah Construction & Mining Co. On hand to greet the winners were Ivy Lee, Jr., Coordinator, Northern California Council, Invest In America Program, Supervisor T. Louis Chess and Supervisor Robert St. Clair. Over 50 members of the local industrial development organization assisted in sponsoring the student guests.

Those winning top honors from each school were, Mary Ann Walsh, Terra Nova High School, Pacifica; Mary Seubert, South San Francisco High School; Ruth T. Fleischer, Westmoor High School, Daly City; Helen Van Orden, Oceana High School, Pacifica; Bonnie Strunk, El Camino High School, South San Francisco; Janet Giovannini, Mills High School, Millbrae; Bonnie Feigy, Hillsdale High School, San Mateo; John Rogers, Serra High School, San Mateo; Howard Greishaber, Aragon High School, San Mateo; Gale Jennings, Notre Dame High School, Belmont; Kathy

Mystifying Item 25 On Agenda

Members of the press attending Wednesday night's meeting of the Pacifica City Council, waited anxiously throughout the long session to learn the scope of item 25 on the two-page agenda.

It was billed as "Recommendation on an Ordinance prohibiting certain activities," a rather mystifying, if vague summation of an unknown piece of legislation.

City Manager Bill Masonheimer wrinkled his brows when he got down to it, too.

"I don't know how this got in there," he remarked. "It must be some type of joke."

He asked that it be stricken from the agenda.

City Attorney Conrad Reich ordered if Masonheimer had placed the "certain activities" ordinance on the agenda just to have a law available if "something came up."

Masonheimer grinned.

The Souza-Aprile Rites in Millbrae

Donna Marie Souza and Anthony Aprile exchanged their wedding vows in a recent double ring ceremony at St. Dunstan's Catholic Church in Millbrae.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Souza of Millbrae are the parents of the bride; Anthony is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Aprile of San Bruno.

For her wedding, Donna chose a lace and organza over taffeta gown with long sleeves, train and lace panels on the sides. She carried stephanotis and orchids.

Bonnie Souza preceded her sister down the aisle as maid of honor in a green ensemble. The bridesmaids were Linda Campbell, Sue Taylor, Cathy and Rosemarie Aprile, sisters of the bride. They all carried blue carnations.

Cliff Souza, brother of the bride, attended Anthony as best man. John Lozon, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, John Kelleher, Barry Lucchesi and Jeff Scranton seated the guests.

The mother of the bride wore a pink suit with pink and white orchids while Mrs. Aprile wore a green lace suit with beige orchids.

After a reception at Augie's on Third in San Mateo, the couple left on a wedding trip to Southern California. They will live in Burlingame.

2 D.C. Scouts Win Awards

Among fifty-two Cubs and Scouts in the Bay Area Council who were winners of special "Treasure Chest" prizes in connection with the Scout-O-Rama held at Oakland Coliseum Arena on April 21 and 22, were David Wagner, 545 Winchester Street, Daly City, a Sports Kot, and Phillip Lewis, 262 Hillside Boulevard, Daly City, an electronic education kit.

St. Robert's Church in San Bruno was the setting for the recent wedding of Joyce Marie Stumbo and Douglas Allan Clark. The Rev. Robert Hennessey officiated.

Escorted to the altar by her father Joyce the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glidden Stumbo, of Belmont, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. A double pearl crown held her illusion veil. White roses were her flowers.

Barbara Stumbo preceded her sister down the aisle in a peach-colored gown of velvet. She carried peach roses. In similar gowns were the bridesmaids, Rebecca Haueter and Jerry Ortega, both of Belmont, Barbara Green of San Mateo and Susan Daly of San Bruno. Vince Campango was the ring-bearer and Jamie Landi, the flower girl.

Lee Chiaroni stood with Douglas, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, of San Rafael, Dennis Chan and Jack Clancy, all of San Rafael; Larry Uhlo of Millbrae and Danny Lyons of Redwood City seated the guests.

After a reception at the South San Francisco Elks Club the couple left for a wedding trip to Squaw Valley. They will live in San Rafael.

Girl Scout Leaders Study First Aid

"Immediate and temporary care given the victim of an accident or sudden illness until the services of a physician can be obtained."—First Aid.

Recently Mmes. Wanda Adams, Jane E. Andersen, Laura J. Andersen, Mae Bastien, Elizabeth Biagini, Roberta Coppock, Isabel Dzick, Mary Jensen, Arlene Lowe, Shirley Parker and Audrey J. Redden completed standard first-aid classes sponsored by the Golden Gate Chapter of the American Red Cross instructed by Miss Ann Mori.

All scout leaders who accompany children on trips, camps and cook-outs must hold first aid cards.

Approximately 30 area Cadette scouts worked under Miss Mori's direction to complete the first aid badge requirements at that level.

Junior Troop 2817, led by Mrs. Mary Jensen, learned artificial respiration techniques.

These children made figures from bleach bottles and did mouth-to-mouth resuscitation at the Bay Council event in Oajland.

'Carnival Of Venice' Event Near

In three weeks the big tent will be raised for St. Veronica's Church "Carnival of Venice," the annual parish festival.

Throughout the affair a Venetian atmosphere will prevail. A gondola will grace the "Rialto" wall, gaily colored flowers will decorate booths, and men workers will be wearing gondolier cumberbunds and scarves, while the women will be in the traditional aprons and head scarves.

Decorations chairman Mrs. William Dondero and her committee are making the costumes.

Varied attractions, including games of skill, will be offered.

One booth will be staffed by teen club members, supervised by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Andreini.

The grand finale will be Sunday when the special awards will be presented at 10 p.m.

General chairman is Allen McVeigh. St. Veronica's is at 434 Alida Way, South San Francisco.

P-TA to See 'Give Death A Holiday' Film

"Give Death a Holiday" will be shown at the next unit meeting of the George Washington P-TA by school nurse Miss Donna Kasper.

The student council will participate in the program.

This will be a 7:30 p.m. meeting in the multi-use room. Cub Scouts Pack 62, Den 1, will lead the flag ceremony.

Mrs. Eunice Kushman will read the historian's report.

Principal C. Martindale will announce the date of the next parent education meeting.

Unit president Art Tufts will turn the gavel over to incoming president, Mrs. Shirley Pederson.

Refreshments will be served by Hospitality chairman Mrs. June Bianchini, assisted by Mrs. L. Vargas, Mrs. Carol Maxwell, Mrs. Lydia Petersen, Mrs. Phyllis Poncia and Mrs. Virginia Tufts.

Seniors to Stage 'Arsenic,' Musicians Ready for Concert

Two eccentric maiden aunts with a flair for murder, three zany nephews, some lethal elderberry wine, plus numerous dead bodies in the cellar add up to the hilarity of "Arsenic and Old Lace."

Joseph Kesselring's famous comedy opened at Terra Nova High School Tuesday night as the 1930's, the play will be presented by Celestine's House of Styles, Skyline Plaza.

HOPING TO follow in the successful footsteps of "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and "You Can't Take It With You," the "Arsenic" cast includes Norma MacArthur and Wendy Wilson as the two eccentrics in question, Bruce Butler and Steve Fox as their two crazy nephews, with various and sundry policemen played by Gary Topolinski, Terry Radomski, Bill Harry Gluckman (586-2783) or Mrs. Seymour Zins (756-4421) have details.

Proceeds will go towards the many philanthropies of B'nai B'rith.

cible" cast are sophomore Lanny Dryden as the sane and puzzled nephew, junior Mike Rogers as an asylum superintendent, and Reg Clodfelter as a corpse.

The production is directed by TN drama instructor David Campbell, assisted by student director Tracy Clodfelter.

As Campbell said, "this is a very funny play. It's been around about 25 years and will probably be around another 25. Our actors are having as much fun with the play as we expect the audience to have."

All performances begin at 8 p.m. Tickets will be sold at the door, $1.25 or $.75 with student body card.

THE Jefferson High School District Honor Band will present its first concert at Westmoor High School this Friday night at 8 p.m. Comprised of top band students from each school in the district, the honor band is directed by TN band instructor John Bentley.

Bentley is responsible for establishing the band.

Concert admission is free.

Junior Teen Unit Planning May 6 Dance

The Casualiers Junior Teen Club, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, had a joint dance with the Imperials Junior Teen Club on Friday April 21, at Colma School. The music for the evening featured the top ten records.

The next dance is scheduled for May 6. More details will be announced at school.

The next scheduled function for the Know Names Junior Teen Club, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, is a dance to be held at the Westlake Park Clubhouse, May 12, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Refreshments will be sold and the local band will perform for this event.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By Donald C. Waite

DO IT YOURSELF?

Since the end of World War II, there has been a great trend to "Do It Yourself" around the home. For many people it is a challenge to their creative and imaginative ability.

But many others now call it "Overdo It Yourself." We have all seen the classic example of the husband who started to fix his own plumbing and wound up paying a plumber twice as much to repair the original plumbing plus correcting the mistakes. What we must all do eventually is try to find out when it is cheaper or better not to do it yourself.

For example, let's take the furniture and decorating field. While many women (and some men) have a knack for refinishing, reupholstering and re-decorating, they too often realize too late that they should not do it themselves.

Besides, they should find out whether it pays to re-finish or re-upholster that old piece of furniture, even though they have it done professionally, or whether it is better in the long run to invest in new furniture altogether.

Many people are very surprised at the small difference in price between repairing the old and buying the new.

Many furniture store owners have seen cases where someone spent $300 to recover an old sofa—and then found out that a new one, just as good, could have been purchased for $275! This is no exaggeration. We suggest before you re-upholster, re-finish or re-decorate yourself that you come in and talk it over with us. There is no obligation, but perhaps we can help you save some money.

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center, are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience or call PL 6-7500. Copyright

THE PENNEY STORY

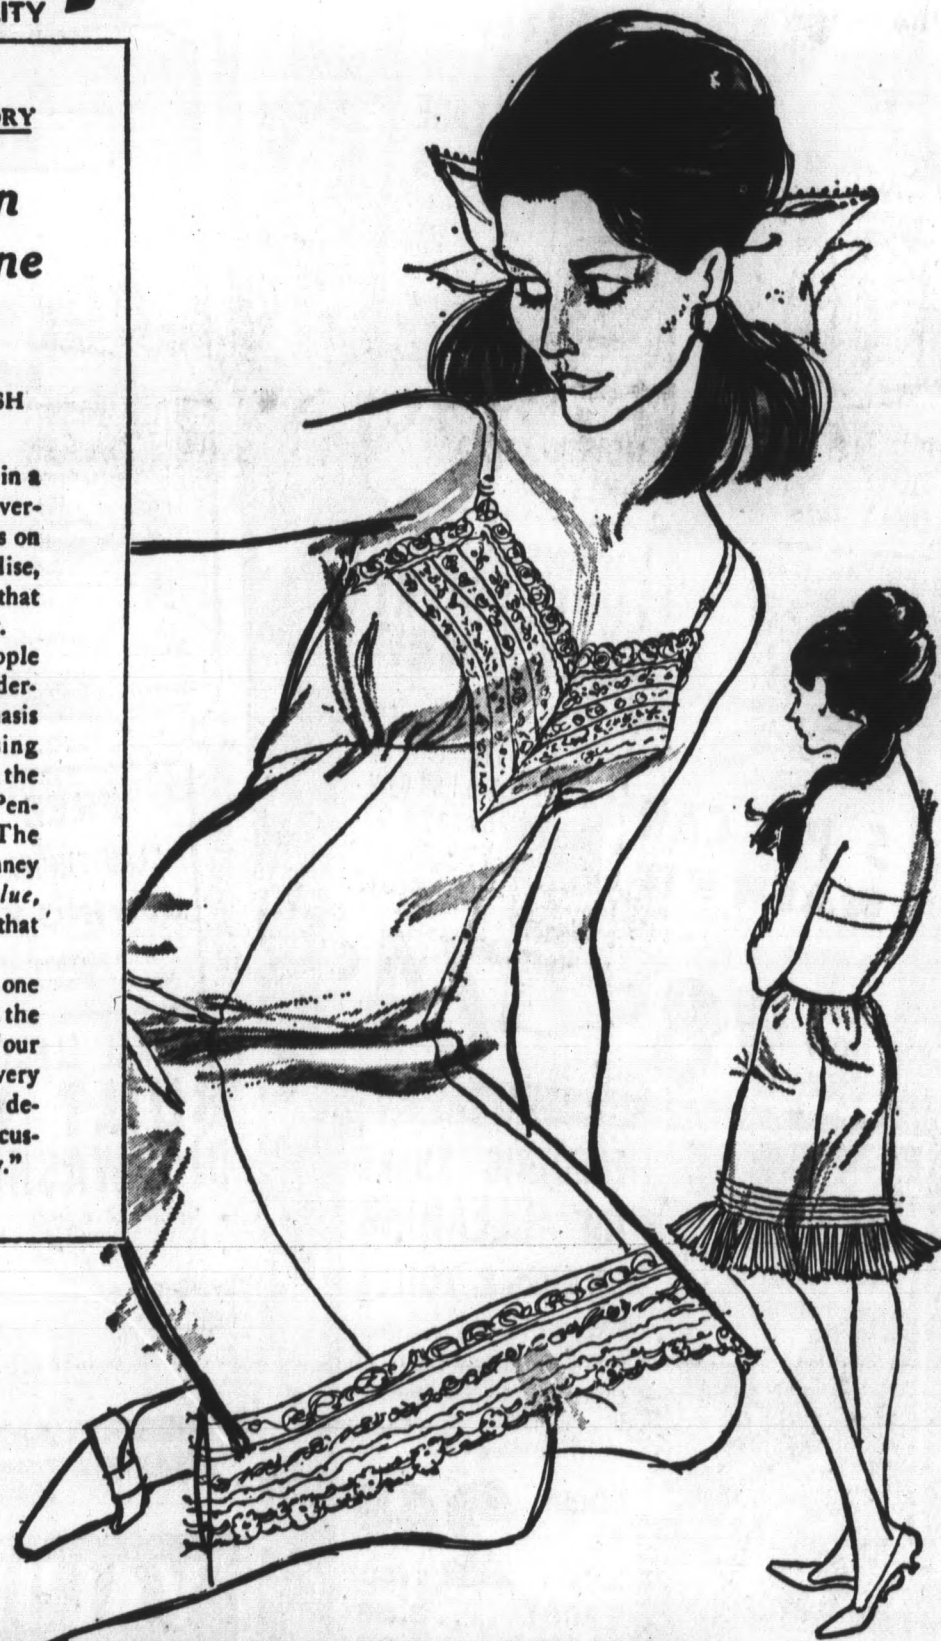

"One eye on quality; one on price"

By ROBERTA NASH

More often than not, in a store's newspaper advertising, the emphasis is on the price of merchandise, for this is the news that readers want to know.

But the Penney people want to be sure you understand that this emphasis on price in advertising does not represent the thinking within the Penney organization. The thing that makes Penney wheels go round is value, or what you get for that low price.

"We have to keep one eye on quality and the other on price," one of our buyers said to me. "Every sale we make today is designed to bring the customer back tomorrow."

Our own Gaymode® slips reduced through Saturday! Timed for Mother's Day gifting!

NORTH COUNTY DEATHS

REV. JOHN J. SULLIVAN
The Rev. John J. Sullivan, assistant pastor at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Daly City, died unexpectedly Thursday night.

The Reverend Sullivan collapsed at a Daly City restaurant about 6:30 p.m., according to the San Mateo County coroner's office.

A priest of the Helena Diocese in Montana, he had served at the Daly City church since 1961. He was a native of Butte, Mont.

The Reverend Sullivan was ordained in Rome in 1936, and had served in a number of parishes before coming to Daly City.

He was a graduate of Carroll College in Butte and North American College in Rome.

Driscoll Mortuary in San Francisco was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Final services were held in Butte, with burial in the Priests' Plot of St. Patrick's Cemetery here.

The Reverend Sullivan is survived by one brother, James P. Sullivan of Montana, and two cousins, Richard Cullinan and Margaret Sullivan of San Francisco.

LUCIANE ANTHONY TONELLI
A Mass of the Angels was celebrated April 24 at St. Veronica's Church for Luciane Anthony Tonelli, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Luciane Tonelli of South San Francisco.

The child died in South San Francisco April 22. Entombment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, with Nauman and Lincoln Mortuary in charge.

Survivors, in addition to his parents, include a sister, Gina Tonelli, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vallega and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tonelli, all of South San Francisco, great-grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Vallega, San Francisco, and Mrs. Clementina Venturini, South San Francisco.

PETER J. BALLESTRASSE
Funeral services were held April 27 from Nauman and Lincoln Chapel for Peter J. Ballestrasse, 56, of 752 Cottonwood Drive, South San Francisco, who died April 25 in San Francisco.

Burial was in Sky Lawn Cemetery.

A native of San Francisco, Ballestrasse resided in South San Francisco several years. He was a member of south San Francisco Elks Lodge 2091.

Survivors include his widow, Claire, two daughters, Dolores Guilani and Patricia Ballestrasse, South San Francisco, a son, David Ballestrasse, South San Francisco, three brothers, John, Anthony and Mario Ballestrasse, and four grandchildren.

BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK SLATED
Daly City mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett has declared the week of May 7-13 "Be Kind to Animal Week" within the city.

In his proclamation the Mayor said:

WHEREAS: We have been endowed by our Creator not only with the blessings and benefits of our animal friends, who provide us clothing, food and pleasure in life, but also with a firm responsibility to protect the dumb creatures given us as a sacred trust, and to show kindness and mercy to them in all of our affairs and

WHEREAS: the people in the City of Daly City are deeply indebted to the animal anti-cruelty control and welfare agencies for the invaluable contribution they make each year in educating our children in humane principles and consideration for animals in the minds and hearts of all our people, and

WHEREAS: we recognize the timeless value of the teaching of kindness to our young people through humane education, and realize that out of kindness to dumb creatures grows kindness and love for both Man and God, and

WHEREAS: the week of May 7 to 13, 1967 has been set as the fifty-third annual celebration of the national week observing the philosophy of kindness to animals,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Bernard J. Lycett, Mayor of the City of Daly City do hereby proclaim and pronounce the week of May 7 to 14, 1967 as "Be Kind to Animals Week," and do heartily commend to all our citizens a full participation in all the events related thereto in this community.

ADULT GRADUATION CEREMONIES SET
Adult School Principal Thomas A. Redmond announced this week that graduation for participants in the Building Maintenance and Sanitation Program, cosponsored by the Jefferson Union High School District Adult Division, the San Mateo County Vocational Service, and the Department of Employment will be held on May 5 at Thornton High School.

Instructors William Lewis and John Lomori, maintenance supervisors of Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools respectively, stated that each participant receiving a certificate is fully trained and capable of assuming the responsibilities of maintenance and sanitation work.

The eight-week program of training, designed and taught by Lewis and Lomori, includes all phases of general maintenance with the addition of special problem areas such as gymnasia, shops, arts and crafts, and multipurpose rooms.

"These men are trained," Lewis said, "to handle maintenance and sanitation work in all types of buildings — industry, hospital, school, or civic agencies."

Lomori supported this view. "They are ready to go to work tomorrow and would be an asset to any maintenance crew," he said.

The Building Maintenance and Sanitation Project is a joint effort of three major agencies of the state: Education, Welfare, and Employment.

Each agency contributes the effort which it is best qualified to make.

Two more eight-week sessions will be held between now and September 30.

At that time expansion of such programs will be considered in light of available facilities and specialized teaching personnel.

STATE SNUBS LAGUNA'S LOAN PLEA
The state department of general services has turned down a request for a loan to finance the Laguna Salada Union School District's participation in the site to help defray its assessment district in Pacifica, financial assistant John Munt reported this week.

However, Munt said, the state has agreed to allow the district to apply funds expected from the sale of a nine-foot wide strip of land of the Sharp Park School site to help defray its assessment.

The Sharp Park School grounds are adjacent to Palmetto Avenue, and the district expects to be reimbursed for the strip of land which will be condemned in connection with street improvements.

REGULAR DENTAL CARE
Reduction of the consumption of sugar, proper toothbrushing can do much to reduce the pervasence of dental decay in children. All dental decay, however, cannot be prevented. There is no substitute for regular visits to the dentist.

Your children should pay their first visit to the dentist between two and one-half and three-years of age, shortly after all their primary teeth have erupted.

There are a number of advantages in early and frequent visits to the dentist:

- 1 tooth defects and dental disease can be detected and corrected in their early stages
- 2 the dentist can observe and correct irregularities in the growth of the teeth
- 3 pain can be prevented
- 4 the cost of care can be reduced

Motorists Assist In Freeway Arrest
Several Bayshore Freeway motorists last night helped highway patrolmen corral a big truck and double trailer rig whose driver was suspected of being drunk.

Officers Richard Gilbert and J. C. Hoffman said they came onto the freeway just before 11 o'clock and saw the truck parked on the opposite shoulder, surrounded by three cars. By the time the officers could cross over to the other side, however, the truck and cars were gone.

Gilbert and Hoffman continued on south and came upon the truck in Redwood City. It was weaving badly from lane to lane and onto the shoulder, they reported, nearly causing several accidents as motorists swerved to get out of the way.

The officers turned on the red light and siren but they did not do any good. Finally, one unidentified driver pulled his brand new car in front of the truck, forcing the truck to slow down and eventually stop. The driver, Tehodore R. Crouch, 31, of 408 Glasgow Drive, Pacifica, failed a roadside sobriety test, the officers said, and was booked at county jail. His company sent another driver for the truck.

One driver told the officers that he had followed the truck from South San Francisco and that he and two other drivers finally got the truck stopped in San Carlos. While the officers were on the way, however, the truck started up again.

National Survey Due In Daly City
Residents of Daly City will be interviewed during the next few weeks as part of a nationwide survey of some 3,000 Americans about the neighborhoods in which they live. The study is particularly concerned with neighborhood characteristics and the reasons why people move from one neighborhood to another.

The survey is being conducted by the National Opinion Research Center (NORC), located at the University of Chicago. Results will be analyzed under the direction of Dr. Norman M. Bradburn, associate professor in the Graduate School of Business of the University of Chicago and director of NORC; and Dr. Seymour Sudman, senior study director at NORC.

The National Opinion Research Center, a nonprofit organization, has conducted surveys all over the country for more than 20 years.

$1,300 Is Stolen In San Bruno
More than $1,300 in cash and property was stolen from the Huntington Avenue apartment of a San Bruno woman in a daytime burglary Friday, police reported today.

Officers said the apartment of Sonia L. Celaya was broken into between 7:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. while she was at work Friday.

A portable television, two watches, a revolver, guitar, two cameras and $500 in coins and cash were taken.

Entrance to the second story apartment was gained by forcing a rear window, police said.

Library 'Friends' Seek Members

Louanne Heath

Community Awareness is the theme of this year's membership drive by the Daly City Friends of the Library and it is also the goal set by the members who hope to involve the whole community in an awareness of the fine library facilities which serve this growing community of more than 65,000 people.

According to Mrs. Alvin Richter, one of the group's directors and one of Membership Chairman Mrs. Vinton S. Stratton's assistants in the current campaign, individuals, businesses and organizations are being invited to show their interest in the efforts of the Friends of the Library by becoming members. Yearly dues are only $1 for individuals; $2.50, for families; $5, for firms or organizations, or $25 for patrons.

The friends appreciate not only active members, those who participate in the book fair and monthly reviews, but also sustaining members who are not able to attend the various functions but who wish to show their support of the program by an annual contribution.

If you are interested in becoming a part of this program, Mrs. Richter points out that all that is necessary is for you to send your name, address and a check for the dues to: Friends of the Daly City Library, Westlake Library, 275 Southgate Avenue, Daly City.

MRS. VINCENT MURPHY, wife of Daly City's postmaster, will be installed as the new president of the Riordan Guild at ceremonies in the Riordan High School Auditorium on Tuesday at 8 p.m., Mrs. Albert Bucci, guild publicity chairman, said. Mrs. Frank Kelechava will install Mrs. Murphy and her executive officers, Mrs. Vern Box, first vice president; Mrs. Gil Restani, second vice president; Mrs. Theodore Martin, recording secretary; Mrs. Peter Ganduglio, financial secretary; Mrs. Mario Pantera, treasurer, and Mrs. Alexander Martinez, auditor. Board members for the coming year include, Mrs. Dale Barkyoub, Mrs. Charles Busterna, Mrs. Anthony Candito, Mrs. Walter Foster and Mrs. John Ortel.

Following the installation and a brief business meeting the members will attend a reception honoring the new officers to be held in Chaminade Hall. Mrs. Gilbert Halverson and alumni members will be the hostesses.

RUMMAGE A-Go-Go is the swinging title of the sale being sponsored by the members of the Altar and Rosary Sodality of the Good Shepherd Church in Pacifica. Mrs. Carmen Prowse said donations are still being solicited and usable items may be left in the garage of the manse or persons in Pacific Heights are asked to call Mrs. Mary Crotty, 359-3591; in Vallejo, Mrs. Frances Ganast, 359-1529; Mrs. Pat Harrington in Fairway Park, 355-3153; or Mrs. Paulette Friemuth in Fairmont, 993-6793, for pick-up information. Mrs. Marge Sekara is general chairman.

MOTHERS' DAY will be the theme of the Westlake Senior Citizens' meeting next Wednesday, when Patti Parks Stolz and The Entertainers present more than one hour of music and fun at the regular seniors' meetings in the social hall of the Community Baptist Church.

BABY NEWS from two Westlake families this past week!

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Smith welcomed a 7-pound 14-ounce daughter on Tuesday.

The blue-eyed, brunette named Denise Michele, made her debut in Mary's Help Hospital, and was welcomed to the Skyline Drive home on Friday by her big sister Diane. Her proud father is a popular local entertainer and music teacher. Mother Carol was employed in the Park Plaza Beauty Salon.

It was a fourth son for Dr. and Mrs. Kim Y. Taylor of Westlake.

The 6½-pound boy was born on Thursday in the U.C. Hospital, where his proud father is a senior resident. The newcomer was welcomed home by brothers John, Jeffery and Joe.

MARY'S HELP Hospital is the temporary stopping place for Edmon Scott of Westlake, recovering from a fall in his home Wednesday.

Scott, a longtime member of the Westlake Senior Citizens, will be in the hospital for another week, according to club treasurer Willard Wagner.

A THANK YOU, via this column, is being extended to all the friends and relatives who sent cards and flowers to Mrs. Rose Lindhorst of Daly City. Mrs. Lindhorst returned home this past weekend after having major surgery in San Francisco's Presbyterian Hospital.

Mrs. Rosemarie Hill of Monterey is staying with her mother and has taken over the nursing chores while Mrs. Lindhorst recuperates.

KSFO'S Jack Carney will be the master of ceremonies when the U.S.O. presents its huge star-studded benefit for the fighting men in Vietnam on May 19, according to Mrs. Emily Freedman, Daly City publicity chairman for the event.

According to Mrs. Freedman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fassler of Pacifica were the early birds in the ticket line when the sale of reservations began last week.

The Fasslers, and all who purchase tickets, will be treated to appearances by Oscar winner Lee Marvin, The Turk Murphy Band and TV's Chuck Connors. The style show portion of the program will feature fashions from the collection at Joseph Magnin and the lucky door-prize winner will receive two tickets to the Caribbean aboard a Delta Airlines jet.

Mrs. John N. Beebe is the general publicity chairman and she has announced that tickets are on sale for $7.50 for sponsors; $5.50, orchestra, and $3.50, for balcony seats.

For details call 362-5300 or PL 5-8981, or send your check and a self-addressed envelope to U.S.O. Benefit, P.O. Box 1340, San Mateo.

BOOKS, books and more books, that is the call going out from the Pacifica Community Cultural Coordinating Committee which is sponsoring the annual book fair at the Sanchez Adobe on May 14 and 15.

According to Mrs. Enid Emde, chairman of the event, books of all types, and in any condition, are wanted so they may be sold for prices ranging from 5 to 25 cents each to raise money for the CCC program series.

Persons wishing to donate books may leave them at the Sanchez Library in Linda Mar, the Sharp Park Library on Palm-zotto Drive or at 451 Manor Drive, 225 Naomi Avenue, 944 Corona or at 1352 Redwood Way.

Information about the sale may be obtained by calling either Mrs. Connie Buchanan, (351-1052) or Mrs. Betty Turner (358-1975).

INVITATIONS are out for the Daly City City Hall dedication on May 20 and so the members of the Daly City Community Chorus are putting the polishing touches on the music they will be performing for that occasion.

According to Mrs. Ann Peters, Irving Berlin's "God Bless America" and "This Is My Country" by Al Jaccobs will be sung, as will "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and "Canadian Sunset."

A WORKSHOP for Blue Bird leaders who will "fly-up" their groups into Camp Fire this spring will be held tomorrow from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Columbia Park Boys' Club, 450 Guerrero in San Francisco, according to Mrs. Mildred Pierce, training committee chairman.

Plan Luncheon

'Father' Talk Set
At Pacific Heights

A Mount Hermon Conference kick-off luncheon will be held Sunday noon at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 Eighty-seventh Street, Daly City.

This is held to generate interest and enrollment in the church's weekend congregational conference, September 15-17, at the Mt. Hermon Conference grounds at Felton, near Santa Cruz.

Cooking the luncheon will be Shirley Sobiek and Irene Stephen, assisted by Elizabeth Haan and Evelyn Long. Participating on the program will be Tom House, Bill Powers, Boris Stephen and Ken Gillespie.

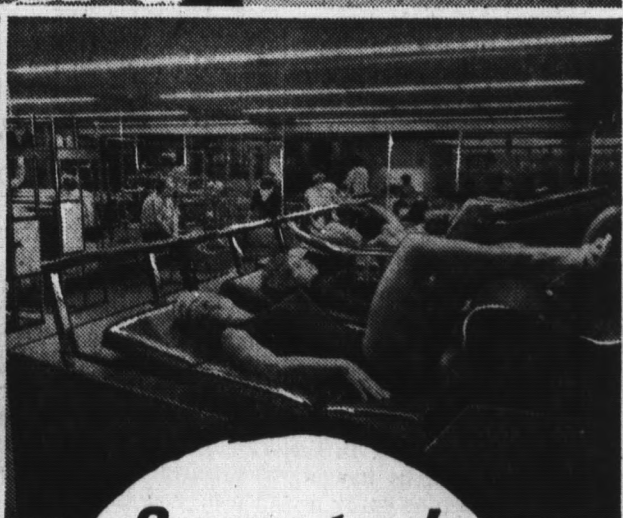

"The father has become the true American villain," says Dr. David Freeman, feature speaker in the program, "The Vanishing American Father," to be presented by Pacific Heights Parent-Teacher Association, May 11 at 8 p.m.

Dr. Freeman, a clinical psychologist who received his doctoral degree at Stanford University, conducts a private practice in Belmont; has served as a consultant to such firms as I.B.M., Pacific Telephone and Southern Pacific; and since 1949 has been professor of psychology at San Francisco State College.

His studies of parenthood lead him to conclude that "a good father may be socially 'invisible' with no great rewards but his role in the development of both boys and girls is far greater than is currently supposed." He further states that although mothers may get the blame for many of children's emotional and social problems, "The father is at least equally responsible because much that mothers do with their children reflects an unsatisfactory relationship with their fathers or their husbands."

THE LARGEST AND FINEST GIFT SELECTION IN THE BAY AREA

Warm Sea Breezes Inspire Crab Fare

The warm sea breezes of Sorrento, Italy, inspire this combination of time tested spaghetti sauce and newly found gourmet fare, Alaska King crab.

Italians, who created spaghetti sauce, begin by gently sauteing onion and garlic in olive oil. The aroma flourishes with the addition of marjoram and sweet basil. Nippy parsley completes the blend of herbs and all are simmered in a rich tomato sauce.

As a variation on age-old Italian cuisine, Alaska King crab adds fresh ocean flavor that will delight even the most conventional Italians.

Crab Spaghetti Sorrento

2 (7 1/4 oz.) cans Alaska King crab or 1 lb. frozen Alaska King crab 1/2 teaspoon dried basil (1 lb. 12 oz.) can tomatoes 1 (6 oz.) can tomato paste 1/2 cup olive oil 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 clove garlic, chopped 1/2 teaspoon pepper 1/2 cup onion, diced 1/2 pound spaghetti 2 tablespoons minced parsley 1/2 Grated Parmesan cheese 1/2 teaspoon dried marjoram

Heat olive oil in saucepan. Add garlic and onion and cook over low heat until golden. Stir in parsley, herbs, canned tomatoes and tomato paste. Add salt and pepper. Simmer for 45 minutes. Drain crab and slice into bite-size pieces. Add and heat through. Meanwhile, boil spaghetti in salted water until tender. Drain. Serve with crab sauce and pass grated Parmesan cheese. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Garden Chicken Liver Sandwich

Substantial meal-in-one sandwiches can serve as a main dish for a quick lunch, simple family dinner, after-theatre supper—even an outdoor Sunday brunch on a lovely spring day.

Protecting freshness is one of the first rules of good sandwich-making. And that's when you need Handi-Wrap moisture-proof food wrap made of polyethylene. Bread requires the greatest protection to keep it deliciously moist. A few minutes' exposure to air can begin to dry out bread and steal its good taste. Many sandwich fillings and ingredients are somewhat fragile and are best kept covered also, even as you work.

Garden Chicken Liver Sandwich, served open-face, is a crisp, colorful combination of fresh lettuce, green pepper, tomato and onion slices, paired with a chicken liver mixture. Cover the sandwiches and garnishes such as pickles, relishes, radishes, etc., with Handi-Wrap to keep them fresh until serving time.

For a free booklet, offering new sandwich ideas and recipes, write to: "All Sorts of Sandwiches," Suite 1100, 551 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Garden Chicken Liver Sandwich

1 pound chicken livers 8 hard rolls, split 2 tablespoons margarine 8 softened butter 1 can (4 ounces) chopped 8 lettuce leaves 8 mushrooms, drained 8 green pepper rings 1/2 cup mayonnaise 8 tomato slices 1/2 teaspoon liquid red pepper 8 onion slices

In skillet, saute chicken livers in 2 tablespoons margarine; chop coarsely. Combine chicken livers, mushrooms, mayonnaise and red pepper seasoning. Butter split rolls lightly. Spread chicken liver mixture on 8 halves. On remaining halves arrange in order: lettuce, green pepper, tomato and onion. Serve open-face, 1 chicken liver and 1 vegetable half per serving. YIELD: 8 servings.

Spicy Date Chews Natural Travelers

Cookies like these are natural travelers—carried to friends and neighbors or to send to youngsters away at school or in the service. Moist and full of tender flaked coconut and chopped dates, these Spicy Date Chews won't crumble and break before they reach their destination. Sturdy plastic or cardboard boxes or empty coffee cans make perfect containers.

Spicy Date Chews

4 cups (about) Baker's Angel Flake Coconut 1 1/2 cups (15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk 1 package (8 oz.) pitted dates, cut 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Bake at 350° for 12 to 15 minutes, or until lightly browned. Let cool about 5 minutes before removing from baking sheet. If cookies stick, hold baking sheet over low heat a few seconds. Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

Sweet and Sour Chicken Delightful

Picture-pretty and party-perfect describes Sweet-Sour Chicken, a delectable dish whispering a hint of the Oriental. Simmer the chicken pieces in a sauce of pineapple preserves or orange marmalade (try one, then vary the dish next time by using the other) and vinegar. The Cantonese touch, a soy sauce-cornstarch thickener, goes next, then green pepper and onion. When the sauce is clear and thickened to your liking, the glazed, Sweet-Sour Chicken is ready to be served atop well seasoned rice.

Sweet-Sour Chicken
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 clove garlic, minced
1 (3-pound) frying chicken, cut into serving pieces
1 teaspoon salt
1 jar (12 ounce) pineapple preserves or orange marmalade
3/4 cup vinegar
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 large green pepper, cut into 1-inch pieces
1/2 cup sliced green onion
2 cups hot seasoned cooked rice
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
Heat cooking oil in large skillet. Add garlic and heat. Add chicken pieces; brown well on all sides, turning pieces as needed. Sprinkle with salt. Combine preserves and vinegar; pour over chicken. Cover and cook slowly until chicken is tender, 30 to 40 minutes.
Combine water, cornstarch and soy sauce; mix well. Pour over chicken. Add green pepper and onion; heat until sauce is clear and thickened.
Combine hot seasoned cooked rice, butter and parsley; mix well. Spoon onto serving dish and top with chicken and sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

Chili-Barbecued Spareribs Dish

Chili flavoring as bright as a Mexican hat dance gives these barbecued spareribs a very special flavor. It's all so simple to do because the dry chili mix seasoning adds both zest and interest to the spareribs. Bake the ribs in an oven or if your fancy dictates, you can cook them on an outdoor grill. It's the sauce that gives them that certain taste preference. To complete the menu for an informal meal, serve a cooler bowl of potato salad; some pick-up relishes and garden vegetables and glasses of iced coffee or tea.

Then for dessert, there is nothing more appealing than the bright fresh tasting fruits of the season.

Chili Barbecued Spareribs
2-3 lbs. spareribs
2 tablespoons salad oil
1-3 cup finely chopped onion
1 (1 1/2-oz.) package chili seasoning mix
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 cup catsup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
Preheat oven to 450 degrees F. Cut spareribs in serving size portions. Place on rack in oven and cook 10 minutes. Turn and cook 10 more minutes. In saucepan, heat oil. Add onions and cook until tender. Remove from heat. Add chili mix seasoning, 1 cup water, catsup, lemon juice, vinegar and brown sugar. Return to heat, bring mixture to a boil. Reduce heat; cover, and simmer 15 minutes. Remove ribs from oven. Drain off all fat. Spoon sauce generously over ribs. Pour remaining 1/2 cup water in bottom of pan. Return ribs to oven and cook, uncovered, for 30 minutes. Turn ribs, baste with remaining sauce. Bake, uncovered, for 30 minutes longer. Makes 4 servings.

Chili Open Face Sandwiches
1 (1 1/2-oz.) package chili seasoning mix
1 cup water
1 lb. ground beef
1/2 cup finely chopped onion

Fish Chowder
1 pound fish fillets
3 cups boiling water
2 cups diced (1/2 inch) pared potatoes
1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 slices bacon
1 large onion, coarsely diced
1 pint light cream
In a kettle gently boil the fish, water, potatoes, salt and pepper until fish and potatoes are cooked — 15 to 20 minutes. Break up fish into spoon-size pieces. Meanwhile cook bacon in skillet; remove. Add onion to bacon drippings and cook until golden-brown; add to chowder kettle with cream. Reheat but do not boil. Crumble bacon and add. Makes about 2 quarts.

A Thrifty Dish for Company

ECONOMICAL GROUND BEEF helps to make an interesting main dish suitable for an informal buffet supper for eight. The beef is used in a savory tomato sauce and the combination is teamed with polenta — cooked cornmeal that is molded and cut into squares. A topping of cheddar cheese is the last touch.

If you want to set up two tables for four, you'll find this recipe is perfect for such service because it's baked in two dishes.

POLENTA WITH MEAT SAUCE

1½ cups enriched yellow cornmeal
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ cups cold water
3 cups boiling water
1½ cups grated cheddar cheese

Meat Sauce (see recipe)
In a saucepan stir together the cornmeal, salt and cold water. Slowly stir in the boiling water. Over low heat, cook and stir constantly until thickened. Cover; continue cooking over low heat stirring several times, until very thick — about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in

Twenty Million Bushels Apples

Fresh apples available in the United States total now about 20 million bushels. Of these, the volcanic-soil valleys of Washington State account for over 60 per cent of the fresh apples in our markets, with the Washington Red Delicious variety alone totaling 6.2 million bushels or 78 per cent of the national figure.

¼ cup of the cheese. Pour into a baking pan (13 by 9 by 2½ inches). Cool at room temperature for about ½ hour. Cover tightly with wax paper or plastic wrap. Refrigerate until firm enough to cut — several hours or overnight.

Before serving, cut set and chilled cornmeal mixture into squares and place in two oblong heatproof glass 1½ quart baking dishes (each 10 by 6 by 1½ inches). Spoon the Meat Sauce over the Polenta in both dishes, dividing the Meat Sauce evenly. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 25 minutes; sprinkler the remaining ¼ cup cheese over Meat Sauce in both dishes, dividing evenly; bake about 5 minutes longer. Serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Note: For ease in cutting and removing the chilled cornmeal mixture from its pan, rinse the pan in cold water before pouring in the cooked cornmeal.

MEAT SAUCE

1½ pounds ground chuck beef
1 can (15 ounces) and 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce,
¾ cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons sugar
1½ teaspoons celery salt
1½ teaspoons oregano

In a large skillet over moderate heat, cook the ground beef; stir with a fork to crumble beef into very small pieces. Add tomato sauce, onion, salt, sugar, celery salt and oregano; simmer for 10 minutes. If Meat Sauce is made ahead, gently reheat (do not boil) before using as directed in Polenta and Meat sauce recipe.

POLENTA — Molded cornmeal mush — is topped with a savory meat sauce and grated cheese. This way it's good enough for company.

To Cover Or Not to Cover

To cover or not to cover may be a question sometimes when it comes to meat cookery. If it's a tender cut to be roasted, the rule is not to cover. Simply place the meat on a rack in an open, shallow pan. No moisture is added, of course!

Less-tender cuts of meat are the ones cooked by moist heat cookery. That means adding moisture and covering, please. These include blade and arm cuts, round steak, brisket, Boston or English cuts, oxtails, pork hocks and shanks.

If there is sometimes a doubt as to whether a cut is tender or less-tender, as in sirloin tip or rump roasts, the meat should be braised, as in a pot-roast. Only when these cuts are of high quality should they be roasted.

Summer Key to Eating Pleasure Is Swing Over to Outdoor Dining

The key to eating pleasure during warm weather months is to swing over to informal dining out-of-doors. Keep in rhythm with summer by using fresh dairy foods that are fast to serve and fun to eat. Stay on pitch with casual bridge brunches on the porch or backyard dinners.

Know the score about dairy foods, nature's own convenience foods. They range from sliced cheese appetizers to sour cream or cottage cheese dips to instant ice cream desserts. All are taste designed to "tone up" summer appetites.

How can you beat milk as the family beverage? It's the refreshment leader of the basic four food groups when served fresh and cold.

Mustard-Broiled Ham
8-10 servings

6 tablespoons (1/2 stick) butter
3 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
2 slices ham, 1-inch thick

In small mixing bowl cream butter; gradually add honey, then mustard and cloves. Place ham slices on broiler pan; spread with one-half butter mixture. Broil about 10 minutes. Turn; spread with remaining butter mixture; broil an additional 10 minutes.

Creamy Macaroni Salad
8-10 servings

Creamy Salad Dressing
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 1/4 cups evaporated milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
1-3 cup vinegar

1 package (7 oz.) elbow macaroni
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
3 tablespoons chopped pimiento
3 tablespoons pickle relish

To prepare Dressing: In a 1-quart saucepan combine flour, sugar, salt and mustard; gradually stir in evaporated milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Cook 2 additional minutes. Blend a little of hot mixture into egg; return all to saucepan. Cook 1 additional minute (Do not boil.) Cover and allow to cool. Gradually stir in vinegar; chill. (Yield: 1 1/2 cups). To prepare Macaroni Salad: Cook and chill macaroni according to package directions.

In a large bowl combine macaroni, celery, onion, green pepper, eggs, pimiento and relish; toss lightly. Add dressing and toss only until blended. Chill several hours before serving.

CHOCOLATE DROPS

Buttered baking sheets
4 dozen
Preheated 350 degrees oven
1 1/4 cups sifted regular all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cocoa
1-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, softened
1/2 cup water
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup broken nuts

Into a large mixing bowl sift together flour, sugar, cocoa, nonfat dry milk, baking powder and salt. Add butter, water and egg; beat until thoroughly blended. Stir in nuts. Drop by rounded teaspoons onto baking sheet; bake 7-9 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool before frosting with Creamy Chocolate Frosting.

Creamy Chocolate Frosting:

1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter, softened
1-3 cup cocoa
1/4 cup instant nonfat dry milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/4 cups confectioners sugar
2-3 tablespoons water

In a small mixing bowl place butter, cocoa, nonfat dry milk and vanilla. While beating at low speed, add sugar and water alternately. Continue to beat until smooth and of spreading consistency.

and chilled seafood such as lobster, crab meat, shrimp and salmon and chilled fresh fruit such as pineapple wedges and sliced honeydew melon, cantaloupe and peaches on lettuce. Serve with a choice of dressings such as Creamy Dill and Cucumber.

CREAMY DILL DRESSING:

Yield 1 cup
1 1/2 tablespoons lime juice
1 teaspoon dill weed
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup dairy sour cream
Stir lime juice, dill weed and salt into sour cream; chill several hours or overnight.

CUCUMBER DRESSING:

Yield: 1 cup
3/4 cup peeled finely chopped cucumber (about 1 large)
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt

Dash of pepper
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
Chopped parsley
Chill cucumbers. Stir lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper into sour cream; chill. Just before serving, drain cucumbers thoroughly; fold into sour cream. Spoon into serving dish and sprinkle with parsley.

SESAME CRESCENT

Baking Sheet
Preheated 350 degree oven
1 package (8 oz.) refrigerated biscuits
1 egg white, slightly beaten
1 1/2 teaspoons sesame seed
Melted butter
Place biscuits on baking sheet overlapping edges to form a crescent. Brush with egg white; sprinkle with sesame seed. Bake 25 minutes. Brush with melted butter and serve immediately.

COFFEE MOLD
Mold, 5-cup
6-8 servings
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
3 tablespoons water
2 eggs
2-3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons instant coffee powder
1 cup whipping cream
Sweetened whipped cream

In small saucepan soften gelatin in water; heat over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved. Set aside. In small mixing bowl beat eggs until frothy; add sugar and coffee powder and beat at high speed for 5 minutes or until very thick. Beat in dissolved gelatin. Whip cream until stiff; on low speed of mixer, add to egg mixture beating only until blended. Turn into mold; chill until firm. Garnish with whipped cream.

Brenda Lee Fairmont Hotel "Record Breaker"

DYNAMIC VOCALIST BRENDA LEE, who opened a three-week engagement in the Fairmont's Venetian Room Wednesday night, is one of the rare child stars who made it big time and stayed there. Brenda holds the coveted position along with such tremendous greats as Judy Garland. As for her records, her recording of "Jambalaya" jumped right into the best-seller lists as millions of network TV viewers watched the tiny tot belt out the tune on such television shows as the Perry Como and Steve Allen. Decca Records has inked Brenda to a fantastic 20-year recording contract in excess of $1,000,000. . . . San Francisco's elegant Oreste's restaurant is located conveniently to Civic Center and offers convenience for cocktails and dinner, as well as excellence in cuisine. Free parking across the street validated at Oreste's cashier's stand.

VERSATILE GARY LONG is the talent headliner at the Holiday Inn in South San Francisco. Gary performs in the Lancer Lounge Monday through Thursday, then takes his Trio into the beautiful Royal Hall for dinner-dancing on the weekends. Food and Beverage Manager Claude Schroeder stresses the fact that the "Inn" has no cover or no minimum, as do many spots offering live entertainment. . . . "A gourmet steak dinner priced so you can eat out twice as often" is the boast of Gold Street in San Francisco. Every night a chef's specialty — New York Steak, Pepper Steak, Steak Sandwiches and also featuring a Sirlion-Briand. All served with a green salad, potatoes and beverage. Every night at midnight it's New Year's Eve at Gold Street. . . . Vicki O'Day, one of the topless dancers at the Moulin Rouge, owns an Arabian horse named GHA, which she will enter in the next horse show here.

THE TOPLESS COMEDY routines of Diana and Sandy are drawing big laughs nightly at the Concor Club, San Francisco. Although part of a show that features Carol Doda and the Dance of Love performed by Raul and Martha, the girls receive their share of the applause from the many patrons who make this spot a "must" in Famed North Beach. . . . Jerry Cummings, a master mixologist at the Manor Lounge in Burlingame, has a unique new drink especially for "high flyers." Ingredients include: Vodka, Creme de Almond and a little Sweet and Sour. Served in a champagne glass, you have what Jerry calls a "Flying Saucer." Alrighty! . . . The "All you can eat" sessions on Tuesday and Thursday nights at the Hi-Fi Room South are always crowded with hungry patrons craving for the pizzas or tacos (depending on the night) provided by Owners Joe Borges and Ben Muniz. No, the food isn't free — but almost, since a quarter buys all you can handle.

Sandy Chase

BEE AND RAY GOMAN have come up with a terrific chef at the Gay 60's. He is Charles Soublet, who was the original chef in the famous Arthur of New York, which is owned by Sybil Burton Christopher. People who have gone to the Gay 60's to see all the music and topless goings-on and have had one of Soublet's dinners or late snacks have gone away raving about how great the food is. . . . At the Fork 'n' Cork, construction is well under way to remodel the bar and north side of the restaurant. When completed, an imposing new scene will be an added attraction here. Julie Proulx, vivacious co-owner of this busy spot, says new menus will be introduced soon. . . . The Galaxie is really bouncing with Jeani Monroe, she of the terrific figure, doing her sexy topless dance, and the red-hot Rick Stevens Four making the music.

Bee Goman

NEWEST MEMBER OF Captain Duane Eckert's Cap'n's Cabin "crew" is vocalist-guitarist Frank Adams, who sings everything from folk to "hard rock" on weekends. His presence is indicative of one thing for sure — plenty of action on the dance "deck" by Cabin patrons. . . . Ruth Griffin, vivacious San Mateo artist who draws sketches of diners at the Carrousel du Soleil restaurant in San Carlos, has been asked by actor Don Rickles to do a special drawing of him to be used in his personal publicity and advertising. . . . Over 200 people attended the recent "Spring Fever" fashion show presented by the Xi Zeta Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at Stickney's of San Mateo. The main Stagecoach Dining Room and the lower level banquet room are becoming more and more popular for fashionable functions.

Duane Eckert

THE TRIP in San Mateo, known widely for the loving sounds of The Care Package, will spotlight folk-guitarist Bernie Burns, Tuesday evening, for a "Folk Happening." Amateur talents from all around are welcome — and urged to join in. Owner Yvonne Modica, of "Big Beat" fame says these "happenings" will continue on a weekly basis as long as they prove popular with patrons. On May 10, The Tombstones, a group needing no introduction — having held the stage when The Trip first opened, return for an extended engagement. . . . A party of six may dine in the privacy of a Tatami Room at Toshio Kiyohara's Iriune and enjoy a complete Japanese dinner for as little as $15 to $18. For authentic Oriental-style eating, the Iriune is almost incomparable. . . .

Yvonne Modica

"OUT OF SIGHT" sounds are featured every weekend at the redwood City Winchester Cathedral, the Bay Area's only genuine teen night-club. Enterprising Richard Romanello, owner of this welcome addition geared to the younger set, only books top quality entertainment. Appearing tonight, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., Stained Glass, RCA Victor recording artists; Saturday night, Capital artists The Baltimore Steam Package. The after-hours show on both nights (from 1 a.m. to 6 a.m.) will feature 6-Paradox, and Sly and the Family Stone. There is no age limit from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m., but I.D.'s are checked for the adult after-hours show, when coffee, pizza, and sandwiches are served. So make the scene, baby, you're in for a lot of musical action.

Lou Dapelo Jr., bar manager and head "plankman" in the Lounge of the Blue Peacock restaurant, Millbrae, is not only considered an expert in the art of mixing your favorite cocktails, but mixes well in crowds. Gabe's prowess in the ring, take it from your Bright friends. . . . Former Butcher Town heavyweight great, Grabriel Lavayse, an old pal of Tom Zucchelli, is a regular patron of Bruno's in downtown San Mateo. In case you don't remember Gabe's prowess in the ring, take it from your Bright friends. . . . Lighter — he was one of the best.

Villa Chartier's New Winchester Room Opens Next Month

Mothers will be in for a special treat when dining at the Villa Chartier on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 14, the scheduled opening date of Emerson Murree's new Winchester Room. The name Winchester seems quite appropriate for the Murphy operation — you never know in which direction the next addition to his Villa Square will appear until the last "blue print" minute. Every construction move in the past has proven a success.

Keith Williamson Blum's Executive

Nice to see deserving people get ahead in this tough business world: countless diners will remember the name Keith Williamson, former "chicken king" of Burlingame who decided it was better to work for someone else than hang out his own shingle. . . . Am happy to report that Keith is now Assistant Vice President Supervisor of Field Operations for Blum's — and it couldn't happen to a "sweeter" guy.

One gets to know the bartenders of the many lounges and bars along restaurant row when you make as many calls as your Bright Lighter does. And if you enjoy conversation with these "Scotch and Soda" experts, may I introduce you to "Blackie", plankmaster at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City. This well known gent can converse on any subject — from troubles at home to a space shot.

The Nooney Rickett Five, direct from a smash tour of Las Vegas and Hawaii, are packing 'em in at Drag-on A-Go-Go, Chinatown's famed night club. Weekends are SRO, as the only dance floor in Chinatown is a scene of "perpetual motion."

Looked like a convention of gourmets when 36 United Airlines executives held a dinner-meeting at Phil Lehr's. Every one of the 36 had Phil's specialty — Steak Wellington, with all the trimmings. . . . "Farm-Fried Chicken — All you can eat" is a Foster's Coffee Shop and Pancake House special. Along with Mr. Chicken, you receive salad, relish, whipped potatoes, country gravy, hot biscuits, dessert and beverage.

Comedy star Ronnie Schell celebrated his new coast-to-coast TV show by hosting a dinner party for local pals held at Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina.

Food Raves For New Southern

The wonderful dinners served at the New Southern restaurant, South San Francisco, have now reached fame on an international basis. A Councilor from South Africa recently visited this "old-Southern-style" dining mecca and told co-owner Nick Sbarra that he and his party of friends were recommending it to their vacationing countrymen.

Bobby D'Castro's Gorilla Act - Finocchio Feature

Keeping up with Bobby D'Castro's range of unusual routines at Finocchio's is like trying to keep up with "Who's Who at the Zoo." His gorilla striptease is a reminder of the grotesque King Kong of the silent film days. And now he's added a Flamingo number, with so many features it must have taken an entire Florida bird farm to produce them.

Friday and Saturday night dancing at Frank Torres Montara Beach Hotel attracts crowds from far and near. Could be the Bob Howard orchestra has that certain tempo recipe for dancing feet. By all means, try one of the old country Peruvian dinners for which this ocean-front restaurant is famous.

Pacific restaurant Enrico Romano will prepare any item to go that's listed on his Romano's dining room menu. Restaurant and cocktail service daily from 4 p.m., Sundays from 2 p.m.

Bob Scott "Cooks With Gas" At The Upper Level

Dining as closely to the fire-side as he could get, in the Villa Hotel's Upper Level Restaurant "Just for Steaks," this week, was Bob Scott, managing director of Pacific Coast Gas Association. The fireplace, needless to say, is a natural gas beauty. The Villa Hotel was host to the Administrative Services Conference of the Pacific Coast Gas Association. With Bob was his lovely wife, Edith, enjoying her second visit to the Upper Level restaurant.

Black Angus Boasts Variety of Foods

When the Black Angus Chuck Wagon boasts of having the "West's largest variety of food," you have to go along with them. An array of appetizing dishes, both hot and cold, are displayed in the stainless steel table for your "All you can eat" pleasure. Because there are so many different entrees to be served, they can't all be displayed at one time. So return visits through the week will prove a variety treat. Luncheon from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday; Dinner, 5 p.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Dinner from 12 noon to 10 p.m. on Sundays and Holidays. Special 39¢ cocktail hour Monday through Saturday, 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Nick Finocchio's redecorated New Tivoli, a "first" in the North Beach area of Italian restaurants (over 50 years in the same location), has five banquet rooms for your private parties.

BAVARIAN MOTOR WORKS

The more you know about cars, the more you want a BMW.

Car and Driver calls our latest "The world's best $2,500 automobile!"

At the Bavarian Motor Works in Germany, we build BMW's with a very special man in mind: the connoisseur of fine cars. And then we build them to sell at a price that just about anybody who's in the market for a new car can afford.

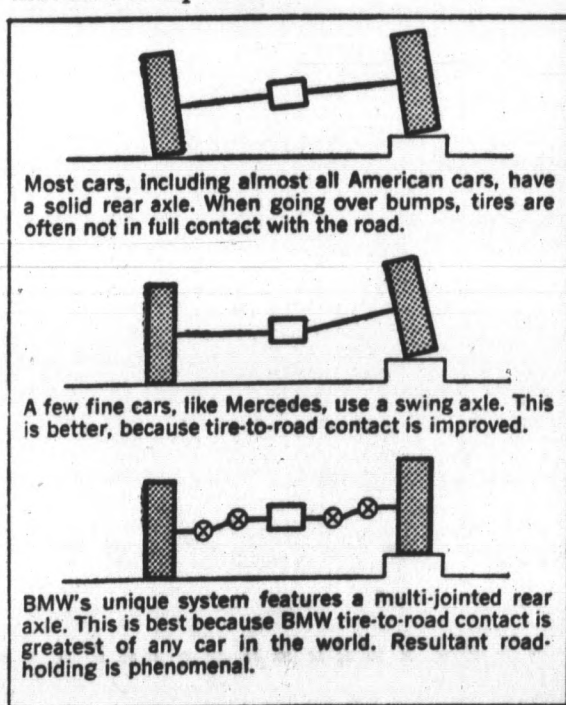

The result is what many experts consider the best automobile buy in the world — a tough, sleek, safe, durable, elegant, comfortable, beautiful car that rarely needs attention, costs little to operate, and will give you the kind of pulse-pounding performance that only a man who loves to drive for the sheer joy of it can fully appreciate. In fact, the February, 1967 issue of Car and Driver calls the new BMW "the most spectacular bargain in the entire spectrum of imported cars currently being sold in the United States. It looks, drives, feels, and sounds like it ought to cost at least a thousand dollars more."

Performance

Consider. The BMW's engine has four cylinders, which means minimal gas consumption (up to 30 miles to a gallon). But thanks to the most advanced engineering in any automobile power plant, a BMW will do well over 100 mph, and will even cruise at that speed, without the least strain.

Suspension

Then there is BMW's phenomenal road-holding ability. This is due to fully independent suspension on all four wheels, plus a unique, multi-jointed rear axle that gives you an unshakeable grip on even the roughest surface. The diagram below shows why that axle is superlative.

The new BMW 1600 2-door.
Fast, tough, economical.

Safety

The BMW's brakes were developed for high-speed driving in the Alps. They have tremendous stopping power, and are absolutely fade-free. Moreover, the BMW body is one of the most rugged ever built. In recent tests, a BMW was driven into a cement wall at 40 mph with no damage to its occupants. There is no safer road car than a BMW.

The exciting new BMW 1800
is a real sportsman's family car.

Automatic Transmission

To make driving even more pleasant, the car features a butter-smooth 4-speed gearbox, or on most models you may choose the famous ZF Automatic Transmission, if you prefer. The ZF, incidentally, is like no other automatic transmission. There is virtually no slippage, which is why it is regarded as Europe's finest.

Comfort

Perhaps best of all, BMW combines all this with the kind of commodious comfort that will melt your wife's heart, too. There is plenty of room for four big adults, or a family with three children. And the trunk is downright cavernous.

Fit

As Car and Driver puts it, "Doors, hood and trunk-lid all convey a substantial feeling of heft, durability, and perfect fit. It's a definite tactile pleasure to open and close anything from a door to an ash tray. They all click, snap, thump, latch, and lock with the same reassuring mechanical precision that one gets from a Leica or custom-made shotgun."

Appearance

As you can see, the car's lines are lithe and trim, and there is no excess chrome. What there is is tastefully laid on, straight, precision fitted and crafted to last. The glass area is enormous. The paint is smooth and clear. In short, a clean, lean look that tells you at a glance that a BMW is built to get you there at maximum speed with maximum safety.

History

At Germany's Bavarian Motor Works, we've been building fine cars for more than 50 years. The famed blue-and-white BMW insignia is patterned after whirling propeller blades because the Bavarian Motor Works was originally founded in 1916 to build aircraft engines. Baron Manfred Von Richthofen's legendary red Fokker Triplane mounted a BMW power plant. Over the ensuing half-century, BMW has produced great cars and motorcycles as well as aircraft engines, and the firm's tradition of racing victories is stronger today than ever. We believe our latest BMW's are our best.

European Delivery

You can order your BMW through your dealer here, pick it up almost anywhere over there. Write for free kit that gives complete information. Learn how you can travel Europe first class, while your savings are substantial.

Models

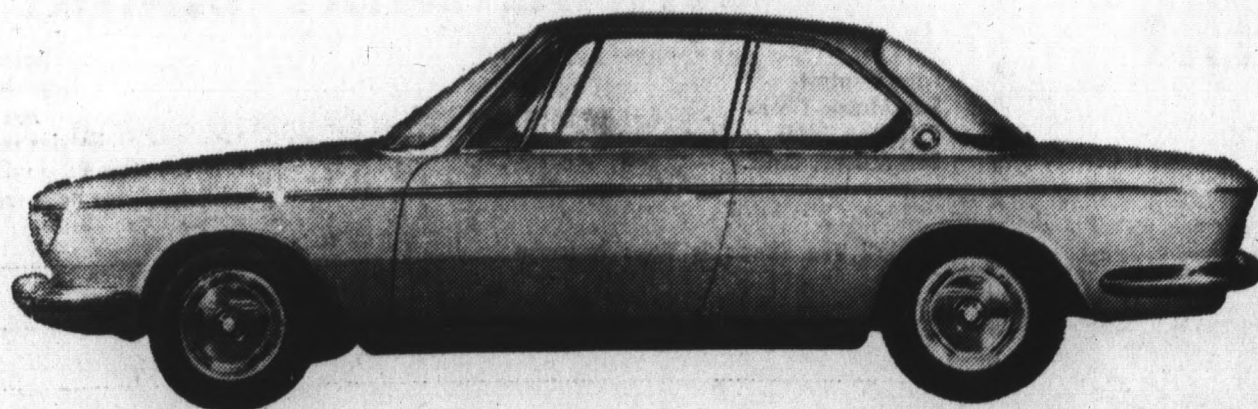

The BMW line is broad and varied, so that you'll find there's a brilliant new BMW that's perfect for you no matter what your budget or needs may be. Models and prices are listed below.
